FALSE ALARM SENDS GIRLS TO ETERNITY

Eight Killed Outright, Three Fatally and Two Score Are Seriously Injured.

ACCIDENT TO A BOY CAUSED THE HORROR

Deaf and Dumb Lad Caught in Elevator of Cigar Factory, Some One Cried "Fire" and the Girls Rushed to Death.

Philadelphia, April 30.—An unfortunate accident to a deaf and dumb boy, Isador Baccus, was today directly responsible for the death of eight girls and young women, the fatal injury of three others and the serious injury of more than a score of girls employed in the cigar factory of Harbuger, Homan & Co., a branch of the American Tobacco Company, located at Tenth street and Washington avenue.

The Dead.

MARY GENEVA, aged 15.
HELEN TOLINI, aged 12.
ELIZABETH TARTINE, aged 12.
ANNIE ROSSCHNEIDER, aged 13.
LOUISA DE SEPI, aged 16.
IDA GREEN, aged 13.
ANNIE FORD, aged 13.
UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN, about 25 years of age, whose body is at the morgue.

Fatally Injured.

MARY MESINO, injured internally and skull fractured.
JOSEPHINE, O'RONCO, injured internally.
UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN, fractured skull, unconscious.

The injuries of the others consist mainly of bruises about the body and fractured limbs.

The building in which the disaster occurred is a five-story brick structure, and reaches an entire block. Twelve hundred persons were at work at the time, 90 per cent of whom were girls, whose ages range from 12 years upward.

Ball of Twine the Cause.

The trouble began on the fourth floor of the structure. Paccus, who was janitor of the building, started for the fifth floor for a ball of twine. The elevator was at the top of the shaft and Baccus pulled the rope to bring it down. He opened the door leading to the shaft and leaned forward to see where the carriage was. As he did so the elevator, which was descending slowly, struck him across the back of the neck, pinioning his head between the elevator and the floor. A stock boy released Baccus and cried for help.

The foreman rushed from the building to call an ambulance, and immediately there was a panic among the employees. Some of the younger girls fainted, while others, not being able to control their feelings, cried fire. Instantly there was a mad rush for the stairway leading into Tenth street. The girls rushed down the narrow staircase until they reached a bend in the exit, between the second and third floors. In their eagerness to escape the frightened leaders fell. Others immediately following tripped over the struggling mass of humanity, and in less than a minute there were hundreds of children and young women struggling in the passageway. The shrieks and screams of the terror-stricken girls could be heard for a block or more.

During the excitement an alarm of fire was turned in, but before the engines could reach the scene several of the occupants of the building had rushed to the windows and jumped to the street, a distance of over 50 feet. Helen Toloni, one of those to jump, was almost instantly killed.

Girls Were Terrorized.

When the firemen and policemen arrived every effort was made to quiet the terrorized girls. The firemen rushed up the stairway and begged the girls to be calm, telling them that there was absolutely no danger, but the sight of the firemen seemed only to add fuel to the flame. While the policemen and firemen were endeavoring to quiet the girls on the stairway, ladders were being run up on the outside of the building and the employees, who had climbed out on to the fire escapes and window ledges, were quickly taken to the street.

After a few minutes the men were enabled to check the awful crush on the stairway, and then began the work of rescuing those who had been trampled and crushed between the second and third floors. A call for ambulances had been turned in, and as quickly as the dead and injured were carried from the building they were hurried to hospitals. The number of ambulances was entirely inadequate, and patrol wagons were brought into use to carry the victims away for treatment.

While this was going on the scene about the structure was heart-rending. The building is located in a section largely inhabited by Hebrews, many of whom were caught in the terrible crush. Parents and relatives of the unfortunate girls were screaming and rushing about the streets like mad, and it was almost impossible for the police officials to restrain the mothers and relatives of supposed victims from entering the building.

Girls Screaming for Help.

The work of rescuing the girls from the windows was necessarily tedious. They were so excited that they did not seem to understand the pleadings of the firemen. At nearly every window of the huge structure were girls screaming and crying for help.

Many were so excited that it was with the greatest difficulty that they were prevented from jumping from the building, notwithstanding that there was not a sign of fire and their rescue seemed only the work of a few minutes.

ATLANTA POSTAL SITE WILL BE CONDEMNED

If Parties Owning Land Will Not Agree to Fair Price. Handsome New Building Certainty in the Near Future.

By Jos: Ohl.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(Special.)—Colonel Livingston, after a conference with Chairman Mercer, of the public buildings committee, has prepared an amendment to the Atlanta item in the bill as it passed the house so as to give the government the right to condemn the property in Atlanta desired for the postoffice site in case it is found necessary to secure it this way. This may be necessary, in view of the fact that the property is owned by several different individuals, some one of whom might, by taking an arbitrary stand for an exorbitant price, defeat the government's wishes to secure the property and thwart the desires of the people of Atlanta that a new building be constructed. The treasury estimate of the value of this property was $165,000, and Colonel Livingston secured an appropriation of $170,000.

There is a possibility of the Atlanta appropriation being further increased in the senate with a view to getting a start upon a new building. The senate recently passed Senator Clay's bill appropriating $500,000 for a new building at Atlanta. This bill has not passed the house and will have no chance in the shape it passed the senate, as the omnibus public building bill passed the other day was designed to take the place of all the individual bills pending before congress. Senator Clay will make a strong effort to secure a large additional appropriation for Atlanta when the house bill is before the senate committee. As that committee unanimously approved his bill, the chances for him getting an increase seem very fair. He may not be able to secure the approval by the committee of as large an appropriation as his bill carried, but he is hopeful of getting enough in addition to that which Colonel Livingston has secured for the purchase of the land to start the supervising architect's office to work on the project for a new building.

In any event, the house appropriation will stand and a handsome new building is a certainty for the near future.

ROOSEVELT NAMES NEGRO; SAVANNAH IS PIPING MAD

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(Special.)—The president sent to the senate today the name of Collector Deveaux for reappointment to the Savannah collectorship.

There is no indignation or any attempt to defeat or delay confirmation, as even those persons in Savannah who have been opposing his nomination agree that Deveaux has made a good official. The regular republican organization of Georgia, as its views are voiced by its representatives here, undoubtedly feels happy over the reappointment, which is considered a decided victory for the organization.

Savannah Is Piping Mad.

Savannah, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The president's appointment of J. H. Deveaux, colored, to be collector of customs at Savannah, will be fought in the senate. There will be a meeting of the directors of the Savannah cotton exchange today and a telegram will then be prepared and dispatched to Senators Clay and Bacon, urging them to exert all the influence they can to defeat the appointment, or, if that should be impossible, to have it held up. Both the cotton exchange and the board of trade have sent long resolutions to the president protesting against Deveaux's appointment, but he has ignored them.

President J. P. Williams, of the cotton exchange, declares it is a trade; that Deveaux promises the Georgia vote in the next republican convention to Roosevelt in return for the appointment.

"Five years ago," said President Williams, "Deveaux was entertained by Mark Hanna at Thomasville, where a trade was made whereby Deveaux became collector and Mr. McKinley got the Georgia delegation's support. Mr. Roosevelt wants to be the next president, and he is prostituting the highest office within the gift of the people by making Deveaux collector in the face of the opposition of the white people, bargaining, in return, for the support of the Georgia delegation in the next national republican convention."

HANNA FORCES ROOSEVELT TO GIVE RATHBONE CHANCE

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(Special.)—It is a perfectly safe prediction that Major Estes G. Rathbone will be given another chance to prove his innocence of the charge of conspiracy and defrauding the Cuban provisional government, upon which he was recently convicted. Just how this will be done none of those having official knowledge of the case will say, but it is understood that Senator Hanna has received assurances from Secretary Root that made the case look better for the Ohio Senator's friend and political lieutenant.

Secretary Root is just back from Havana. This morning Senator Hanna had a long conference with him and the senator came away from the war department feeling not at all cast down over the outlook. A close friend of Major Rathbone said this afternoon that he is to be given a full opportunity to establish his innocence and that this will be in a way which will satisfy his friends.

Before he left for Havana Secretary Root expressed himself as not fully satisfied that the charges had been legally proven according to the usual legal standards in the United States and his visit to Havana is said to have confirmed him in this opinion. He does not, however, share the view of Major Rathbone that General Wood had any part in improperly shaping the action of the court and it is announced that whatever action is taken will be through Governor Wood.

DE LEON TOO STRENUOUS FOR STATE DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The state department has decided to place another man in the consulate general at Guayaquil, Ecuador, in place of Perry M. De Leon, who has just returned to the United States from his post. Friction has arisen between the local authorities in Guayaquil and Mr. De Leon. The selection of his successor has been made, and will be announced shortly.

Mr. De Leon was appointed to Guayaquil from Georgia, July 15, 1897. His particular activity in the case of the American, Bolan, who had been imprisoned by the Ecuadorean courts in connection with a disputed railroad construction contract, was the matter which brought him into trouble with the authorities, taken in connection with the cases of other Americans who claimed his good offices.

KNOX REFUSES TO CONFER WITH BEEF TRUST AGENTS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Having received a letter from the president of the republican club at New York stating that he had arranged for a conference between Attorney General Knox and representatives of the packing companies, the attorney general today replied as follows:

"Your action requesting representatives of packing companies to meet me is unwarranted by my letter of April 28, and was without my knowledge or any intimation to me that you proposed doing so until receipt of your letter of the 28th. I regret that you have assumed to arrange conferences which misrepresent the government's position."

WOMAN MARRIED THE MAN WHO HAD BEEN HER SLAVE

Columbia, S. C., April 30.—(Special.)—In the Richland county court, in a suit to collect a debt from the estate of Ed Owens, a deceased negro, an effort was made to show that the widow of the dead man should have a homestead set aside from the estate. Just here it developed that the widow is a white woman, and so under the law could not be legally married in South Carolina to a negro. She married him in Tennessee in the year after the war. He had been her slave, and moved back to Columbia in 1870 and has remained on a farm a few miles from the city ever since. The judge held that the union was an illegal one, as viewed by the state court, and consequently there was no homestead.

Barges and Men Lost.

New York, April 30.—The tug boat Volunteer has reached this port after having lost the barges Henry Hughes and Baxter off Penfield reef, Long Island sound. One man on board the Baxter was lost and one boy from the Henry Hughes also perished. The captain of the Henry Hughes, his wife and two children were rescued and returned to New York on the Volunteer.

Carnegie Leaves for Scotland.

New York, April 30.—Andrew Carnegie left today on the steamship St. Louis for his estate in Scotland. With him were Mrs. Carnegie, Miss Carnegie and James Bertram, his private secretary.

Divorce for Mrs. Tiffany.

New York, April 30.—Announcement was made that Mrs. Marie Tiffany had been granted an absolutel divorce from Perry Tiffany yesterday at River Head, Long Island.

THEIR QUARREL AGAIN REFERRED

Miners and Operators Appeal to the Civic Federation.

They Have Been in Conference Two Days, but Nothing Has Been Given Out as to the Result — Public Is Still at Sea.

New York, April 30.—After spending two entire days in endeavoring to arrive at a settlement of their differences, the operators and representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, who were brought together by the good offices of the National Civic Federation, have again referred their troubles to the committee on conciliation of that body. When the committee will meet for the purpose of taking the matter up had not, up to a late hour tonight, been definitely settled, but the probability is that the meeting will take place either Friday or Saturday of the present week.

When the committee of operators and representatives of the union adjourned sine die, shortly after 4 o'clock this afternoon, a statement was given out which left the general public as much at sea on the situation as before negotiations began. Not a scrap of official or authoritative information was obtainable to show what progress, if any, had been made toward a settlement.

"Our conference with the operators," said President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers of America, "has been brought to a close. According to an arrangement with the National Civic Federation we are to report to that body at a meeting, the date of which has yet to be determined.

A little later a "general" statement was given out by the representatives of the big coal concerns at the conference. President C. Baer, of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company, was spokesman for the coal companies.

"Under the arrangement with the National Civic Federation," said he, "it was understood that the report of this committee should be made to that body. The committee on conciliation of that organization will meet Friday or Saturday. Until that body meets we cannot make a report to anybody."

In answer to a question President Baer said that was the arrangement whether the negotiations resulted in an agreement or disagreement. Every effort to obtain additional information, either from the operators or miners who have taken part in the conference proved futile. The operators, however, seemed in a happy frame of mind. Nor did the miners seem in any degree downcast and the consensus of opinion among outsiders was that some progress had been made toward an amicable settlement.

CATHOLICS IN UNITED STATES.

Some Interesting Figures Are Furnished by Father Sheedy.

New York, April 30.—At the fourth annual meeting in this city of the Maynooth Association of the United States speaking on the progress of the Catholic church in the United States, Father Sheedy, of this city, said:

"Taking the religious census for the past year compiled by Dr. H. K. Carroll, a Protestant clergyman, it is found that of the 653,000 new members that were added to the various denominations, 468,083 were added to the Catholic church. The increase in population was 2.18 per cent, while the Catholic increase for the year was 5.4 per cent. On the 26,000,000 church members in the United States, Dr. Carroll set down 9,000,000, or nearly one-half, as Catholics."

POSTAL CURRENCY SCHEME.

Outline of Measure To Be Recommended by Expert.

Washington, April 30.—The committee of postal and treasury experts which has been considering the question of a fractional postal currency probably will recommend to congress a measure calling for the establishment of a currency of notes adapted with improvements from the postal notes used in Canada, Great Britain, Germany and France. This plan calls for books of fractional currency arranged in detachable coupon, from which are to be obtained from postoffices or rural free delivery carriers in amounts from 5 cents to $2.

MILLS TO GRADUALLY CLOSE.

Caused by Strike of American Woolen Company Weavers.

Providence, R. I., April 30.—An unlooked for development in the affairs of the American Woolen Company, in connection with the strike of weavers in thirteen of its mills, came today when an order was issued to gradually close the yarn making departments in the Olneyville mills. Over twelve hundred hands will be laid off.

The closing of a number of mills in other cities has stopped the demand for yarns. It is estimated that this strike at present affects 20,000 persons.

CONGRESSMAN BUTLER SUED.

Washington Hotel Waiter Wants $10,000 for Alleged Assault.

Washington, April 30.—Congressman J. J. Butler, of Missouri, is made the defendant in a suit for $10,000 damages instituted today in the District court by August Scholz, a waiter at a local hotel. Scholz alleges that while serving the Missourian at the hotel Saturday the latter assaulted him. He says Mr. Butler used vile and abusive language toward him and struck him a heavy blow with a water bottle.

Moore & Evans Fail.

Chicago, April 30.—The wholesale jewelry firm of Moore & Evans, one of the largest in the west, was placed in the hands of a receiver today. Liabilities are $175,000; assets $100,000. C. B. Moore, the head of the firm, who has been in Memphis for several weeks, has been requested to return to Chicago and help straighten out the affairs of the concern.

Long Out; Moody In.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Long closed his official career as the head of the naval establishment today. It has been arranged that Secretary Moody shall assume the duties of secretary of the navy tomorrow morning.

REPUBLICANS TRY TO LAY BURN AND KILL TEMPEST

ORDER ISSUED IN CIVIL WAR GUIDE FOR GENERAL SMITH

WASHINGTON, April 30.—It is reported at the war department that its answer to the resolutions proposed by the military affairs committee of the house as to the nature of the instructions sent to General Jacob Smith from Washington for his guidance in the Samar campaign will be very brief. According to the officials no orders on this subject were sent to General Smith from Washington and the officer acted entirely under the instructions of his immediate superior, General Chaffee.

It also is declared that General Chaffee was not instructed from Washington as to the kind of warfare to be waged in Samar. The nearest step in that direction was the republication as a guide for the army of General Order 100, the department taking this means of calling attention to the fact that the order was still in force. If the court-martial now trying General Smith accepts the view that this order is in full effect now as when it was promulgated in the days of the civil war, then it is predicted here at the department that General Smith will rely for his acquittal upon article 30 of that order, which authorizes a suspension of all rules of civilized warfare and retaliation when the enemy acts in a similar manner.

POISONED SPEARS WERE USED AGAINST AMERICAN TROOPS

MANILA, April 30.—Lieutenant George H. Shields, Jr., aide de camp of General Jacob H. Smith, testified at today's session of the court-martial which is trying the general. The lieutenant said he knew well the signature of Lucban, the insurgent leader, who was captured February 22, by Lieutenant Strebler's Philippine scouts, in the island of Samar. The order issued to poison the natives' spears was undoubtedly signed by Lucban.

The witness also said Lucban confessed to him that he was the author of the proclamation setting forth that German warships were bombarding Vigan, and that the Filipino navy was blockading Manila, which was issued to encourage the Filipinos.

The defense then rested its case, and the court adjourned until Saturday.

REPUBLICANS HAVE REFUSED TO USE GARDENER AS WITNESS

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Major General MacArthur today gave further testimony before the senate committee on the Philippines. He explained his statement, made yesterday, that absolute chaos would result should independence be given the Filipinos and the United States forces be withdrawn, by saying the people of the Philippines, being less prepared for self-government and administration than any of the Latin-American republics at the time of their emancipation from Spain, their own unaided efforts to accomplish self-regeneration would in all probability prove abortive.

The people of the Philippines, he said, have rudimentary ideas and aspirations and are therefore in an essentially plastic condition, which, under the tutionary control of the United States would, in his opinion, admit of a rapid molding of the body politic into a consistent, self-supporting commonwealth. American withdrawal from the islands would, in his opinion, result in the permanent failure of republican institutions in the east and a fratricidal war, which would continue until suppressed by some exterior force.

He gave it as his conscientious belief that the presence of the United States in the Philippines is an unmitigated benefaction to the Philippine people.

"Do you mean the Philippine people who are left alive after they have been subjugated?" inquired Senator Patterson.

General MacArthur declared that he did not mean that there has been any unusual destruction of life in the islands. "The destruction," said he, "is simply incident to war and, of course, embraces a very small percentage of the total population, which is dense."

"Thirty-three and a third per cent in one province," remarked Senator Patterson.

Replying to this statement General MacArthur informed Senator Patterson that if he preferred to believe that he (MacArthur) could not help it.

General MacArthur described the disparity between the killed and wounded of the Filipino and American forces as being due to the fact that the Filipinos know nothing of the double sight on their rifles. Senator Patterson wanted to know if as a matter of fact the contacts between our troops and the Filipinos were not simply assaults and pursuits.

General MacArthur disclaimed that that was so, stating that since the affair has reached the guerrilla state the United States troops have had the greatest difficulty in finding the Filipinos, so that whenever the Filipinos attacked it was in the nature of a surprise, the Filipino posting himself in thick mountain gorges and firing first. Under these circumstances our officers and men would go in after them and then the natural supremacy of the American showed itself and every man that could be reached was killed.

Responding to a question by Senator Carmack, General MacArthur said that when he assumed responsibility for the methods adopted in capturing Aguinaldo he did so without conferring with the authorities at Washington. The plan was General Funston's, he said, and he (MacArthur) assumed the responsibility of approving it. At no time, said General MacArthur, replying to an inquiry from Senator Patterson, did he violate the rules of civilized warfare. His position on this subject, he said, was emphatic.

By a strict party vote the committee refused to subpena Major Cornelius Gardener, Aguinaldo, Sixto Lopez and Mabini.

BURNED HERSELF TO DEATH.

Horrible Mode of Suicide Chosen by Grief-Stricken Mother.

Detroit, Mich., April 30.—Crazed by the death of her 3-year-old child from scarlet fever on March 19, Mrs. Adeline Sage, of 363 Locust street, arose from her bed this morning, poured a can of kerosene over herself and ignited it.

Her screams awakened her husband, who ran to her aid and tried to smother the flames with some bed clothing. He realized that nothing could save her and ran crying for help. Neighbors rushed in, but they, too, could do nothing and when the nearest physician arrived the last little flames were dying out on the woman's charred body.

BIRTHPLACE OF "UNCLE SAM."

It Goes Under the Hammer of Auctioneer for $1,500.

Mason, N. H., April 30.—The Wilson homestead, said to be the birthplace of the original "Uncle Sam," was sold at auction this afternoon for $1,500. The purchaser was Captain Orren A. Hamblett, of Washington. "Uncle Sam" was Samuel Wilson, the eldest of twelve children born on this farm. During the second war with England, as the story goes, he and his brother, Edward, were contractors for government supplies at Troy, N. Y.

It was the Wilsons idea to label their beef and pork packings "U. S.," and as Samuel Wilson was generally called "Uncle Sam" the army quickly referred to the supplies as "Uncle Sam's." This title quickly was applied to the government and after the war was used everywhere in that sense.

Samuel Wilson died in Troy in 1854, aged 88. The farm was sold today because of the death of the last member of the family. It was owned by a Wilson for 122 years.

Morton Laid To Rest.

Nebraska City., Nebr., April 30.—It was a sorrowful procession that followed the remains of J. Sterling Morton to the final resting place at Wyuka cemetery this afternoon. The streets were lined with people who stood in respectful silence while the procession, headed by a guard of honor, passed through the down town streets.

Senator Lodge Intimates That an Investigating Committee Will Visit the Philippines.

ALL THE FACTS WANTED, SAYS SENATOR LODGE

But in Face of That Statement He Opposes Summoning Major Gardener To Tell About 100,000 Dead Filipinos in One Province.

By Jos: Ohl.

Washington, April 30.—(Special.)—The republicans of the senate are beginning to weaken under the fire of the minority and it has been determined that, to some extent at least, the men on the majority side will take part in the Philippines debate. It has been the policy of Senator Lodge and his associates to refrain from debating the pending legislation and they have gone to the extent of announcing that they would let the democrats do all the speaking. Not only this, but they have persistently absented themselves from the chamber during the speeches of the democrats, their aim being to impress the public with the idea that no interest whatsoever is being taken in the matter.

The way the democrats have been exposing the conditions in the Philippines as revealed by the courtmartials of Waller and Smith, in the report of Major Gardener and in the famous orders of General J. Franklin Bell has stirred the republicans to the necessity of meeting the charges and of taking some step calculated to meet the popular demand for a thorough and searching investigation.

Senator Lodge indicated in a short speech he made today that the republican senators are seriously considering sending a subcommittee to the Philippines.

Lodge Talks of Investigation.

In explaining why the committee had seen fit to decline to send for Major Gardener and also for Aguinaldo and other leading Filipinos, Senator Lodge contended that it would be more reasonable to send a committee out there than to send for a number of witnesses to come from the islands. With characteristic protestations of virtue he declared that nobody would suspect the republicans of the committee of endeavoring to suppress anything. This created a smile even on the republican side.

The discussion of the Philippines question was decidedly lively today. Senator Clay took part in it, arguing that Major Gardener should certainly be summoned at once. He quoted liberally from Major Gardener's famous report to show that he was certainly a very material witness and ought to be sent for to testify fully concerning the conduct of the war in the Philippines. "If we have not been cruel," said the senator, "let us clear ourselves

TRYING TO LAY SMITH STORM

Republican Leaders Change Their Tactics in Regard to Philippine Disclosures.

ALL THE FACTS WANTED, SAYS SENATOR LODGE

But Despite That Statement He Is Opposed To Calling Major Gardener as Witness—A Heated Debate in the Senate.

of the charge that has been made against the army. All we want is the truth." He strongly argued that any person who can possibly throw any light upon the conditions in the Philippine islands should be summoned before the committee.

A resolution offered by Mr. Patterson, of Colorado, directing the secretary of war to order, by cable, Major Gardener, now in the Philippines, to come immediately to Washington to appear as a witness before the Philippine committee, precipitated a warm discussion. The debate continued for about two hours, considerable feeling being manifested on both sides of the chamber.

Charge of Suppression Made.

The charge was made by the minority that the majority of the committee was endeavoring to suppress facts and information. This was denied by the chairman of the committee, Mr. Lodge, who said that any such action would be inconceivably stupid. The resolution finally went over until tomorrow.

The bill for the purchase of the Rosebud reservation in South Dakota and the sundry civil bill were considered, but no action was taken upon them.

During the discussion on the Patterson resolution Mr. Tillman indicated his belief that information was being "smothered," and he demanded to know from Mr. Lodge whether he proposed to "dragoon the senate into a vote upon this measure."

Mr. Lodge replied, laughingly, that he wished he could dragoon the senate into a vote upon the measure, but Mr. Tillman knew he could do nothing of the kind. He believed it would be preposterous for the senate to wait upon a single witness.

"Of course," said Mr. Tillman, "everything can go along leisurely if the Philippine committee is to smother information."

Mr. Allison pointed out that nobody objected to the testimony of Major Gardener. His regiment would leave the Philippines soon. He intimated that Major Gardener was particularly anxious to be a witness and personally he was not in favor of decorating him by ordering him by cablegram to come to this country in advance of his regiment. If one witness were called from the Philippines he thought it would be necessary to summon others. It might be necessary to get the views of the other thirty odd provincial governors, which, he suggested, might be as valuable as those of Major Gardener. He was strongly opposed to calling Major Gardener home by cable.

Carmack Wants Gardener Called.

In support of the resolution Mr. Carmack, of Tennessee, declared that the report made by Major Gardener was so startling and important that the secretary of war had endeavored to keep it from the senate and from the American people. He insisted that unless the proposed resolutions were adopted Major Gardener surely would not get to Washington before congress adjourned.

Mr. Culberson, of Texas, explained that the minority of the Philippine committee especially desired Major Gardener's testimony because his statements had been challenged by Governor Taft and General MacArthur.

After making a brief review of the work of the Philippine committee, Mr. Lodge, the chairman, said Major Gardener ought to appear before the committee. Personally he desired to hear his testimony before congress adjourned. But, if Major Gardener was to be called by cable, he probably would want to call the other thirty provincial governors. He suggested, sarcastically, that Major Gardener was a particularly important witness, because he seemed to agree in some respects with the minority. If the testimony of one provincial governor was desirable, that of the thirty odd others probably would be.

"Has the senator suggested," interrupted Mr. Patterson, "that the other governors be called?"

"I make the suggestion now," retorted Mr. Lodge.

Mr. Patterson said the minority had objected to the calling of no witnesses, and, indeed, was willing that any witnesses should be summoned who could throw any light upon the situation.

Continuing, Mr. Lodge said that the minority of the committee had suggested that Aguinaldo, Sixto Lopez, Mabini and some prisoners of war on the island of Guam; H. M. Bray, an agent of the Filipino junta at Hong Kong, and two Associated Press correspondents, Mr. Collins, of Pekin, and Mr. Martin, in Venezuela, be called as witnesses.

No Filipino Testimony.

The committee had decided not to call them for various reasons. The committee thought that the testimony of Filipino prisoners was not desirable; Bray was a British subject, and the two correspondents were inaccessible. Admiral Dewey and General Anderson, he said, would appear as witnesses, and the list of witnesses was of sufficient length to occupy the committee until the adjournment of congress.

Mr. Carmack said Major Gardener had made a grave accusation against military conduct in his province, and he believed the accusation demanded investigation. He insisted, however, that the majority of the committee was not eager to get information. He then sent to the clerk's desk to have read a brief of the statement which Mr. Atkinson expected to have made to the committee.

Mr. Lodge objected to the reading of the statement by the clerk unless he were permitted to conclude an observation which he had begun while Mr. Carmack had the floor. When Mr. Carmack said he would read the statement himself, Mr. Lodge interrupted to say that he had no desire to force the senator to read the brief.

"I understand," retorted Mr. Carmack. "The senator simply desired to be a little disagreeable."

Upon the suggestion of Mr. Spooner, Mr. Lodge withdrew his objection and the clerk read a part of the statement, the remainder being ordered printed in the Record without reading.

"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twelve years, so bad at times I could not leave my bed," writes Mr. R. J. McKnight, of Cades, Williamsburg Co., S. C. "I was badly crippled. Tried many doctors, and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head), would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. Everybody who saw me said I must die. I took five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and four vials of the 'Pellets,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

HOW HALL HAS VOTED ON ANTI-BARROOM MEASURES

Politician Calls Attention to His Attitude on the Willingham Bill and the Wright Dispensary Bill. State Political Gossip.

SOME features of the letter of Hon. Dupont Guerry, published yesterday in The Constitution, in reply to Hon. Warner Hill, campaign manager for Hon. J. M. Terrell, formed the subject of interesting discussion among politicians at the capitol and in hotel lobbies yesterday.

Particular reference was made to the statement in Mr. Guerry's card that Hon. Joe Hill Hall, of Bibb, had, on the floor of the house, made the statement that he was in favor of state prohibition to the extent of abolishing barrooms from the state. Referring to Mr. Hall and the reasons why he proposes to vote for him, Mr. Guerry made the following statement in his card.

"I voted for him at the last primary and shall do so again at the next primary, and in doing so I shall vote as I pray and pray as I vote. Mr. Hall does not go as far as I do on the prohibition question and I do go as far as he does on some other questions, but altogether his views are more in accord with mine than were or are those of any other candidate for representative at the last or the approaching primary.

"Mr. Hall has openly announced, on the floor of the house of representatives, in favor of state prohibition to the extent of the abolition of barrooms by direct state legislation. This Mr. Terrell has not done, though this question has been pressed upon him during the last month or so, in the public prints and otherwise."

"Mr. Hall may have made that statement on the floor of the house," remarked a prominent Georgia politician yesterday referring to the feature of Mr. Guerry's card quoted, "though I do not remember his having done so. I do know, however, and the house journals will show that he voted against practically every measure that has ever been proposed for the avowed purpose of abolishing barrooms from the state.

"I have recently examined the house journals for the purpose of discovering just where Mr. Hall stood on those questions, and I find that on November 22, 1899, he not only voted against the Willingham bill, whose object was state prohibition and the abolishment of barrooms, but that before it came to its final passage he voted against every amendment offered to the measure that was calculated to modify its provisions or make it more certain of becoming a law. He even voted against the amendment which proposed to submit to the people the question of whether they wanted state prohibition in accordance with the terms of the Willingham bill. It does not appear to me that this attitude is calculated to put him in the list of those who favor the abolishment of barrooms.

"Coming down to the Wright dispensary bill, which was known in the legislature as the 'anti-barroom' bill, he went on record also as against that measure. This bill was passed by the house on Friday, November 8, 1901, and Mr. Hall, of Bibb, is recorded as having voted against it.

"I am not criticising Mr. Hall's attitude on these measures. I have no doubt whatever that he voted, as I am satisfied he always does, in accordance with his convictions. But it seems to me, taking his record into consideration, that there is some inconsistency in putting him in the attitude of favoring the abolishment of barrooms for the state, when he has always voted against measures proposed in the legislature which had that object in view.

"Then, again, he practically prefaced his speech at Pelham, following the speech of Mr. Guerry last August, with the statement that he was against prohibition. He said, in effect, that he was an anti-prohibitionist, and then went on to explain why, holding those views, he was supporting Mr. Guerry for the governorship. Mr. Hall may be in favor of the abolishment of barrooms, but I would never judge so from what he has said nor from the way he has voted when the liquor question has been presented in the general assembly."

GOVERNOR CANDLER left the city last night for Savannah, where he will attend tonight the banquet to be given in honor of the one hundredth anniversary of the Savannah Volunteer Guards, one of the oldest military commands in the state. The guards will give a dinner in their armory hall to commemorate the event, and Governor Candler will be one of the speakers of the occasion. The Guards have a record in almost every conflict since the revolution, and their services in the civil war are historic. The governor will remain in Savannah today and tomorrow, returning to the city Saturday morning.

ATTORNEY GENERAL BOYKIN WRIGHT yesterday returned to State Treasurer R. E. Park the Bulloch bond sent to the treasury department by Brown Bros. & Co., bankers, of New York, with the statement that it was worthless. The attorney general found upon investigation that it was one of what are known as the "fraudulent Bulloch bonds," and so stated in his letter to the treasurer. The treasurer is forbidden by statute to redeem these bonds, and it has been returned to Brown Bros. & Co. with that explanation.

NOTICE was received from New Orleans yesterday by Attorney General Boykin Wright to the effect that the case of Comptroller General W. A. Wright against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company and others, appealed from the decision of Judge W. T. Newman, had been assigned for a hearing in the circuit court of appeals on Monday, May 26. This is the suit involving the question of collecting taxes, present and past, on $1,500,000 of the stock of the Western Railway of Alabama, which is owned by the Georgia Railway Company, of which the Louisville and Nashville is the lessee. It is expected that Hon. J. M. Terrell, former attorney general, who argued this case for the state before Judge Newman, will go to New Orleans to assist Attorney General Boykin Wright in the argument there. The state's attorneys are of the opinion that they have a good case, and are in hopes of securing a reversal of the decision of the lower court.

GOVERNOR CANDLER will not receive the statement of the condition of the state treasury from Treasurer Park until he returns from Savannah, on Saturday, and will not know until that time to what extent he will have to borrow money before the teachers of the state can be paid for their second month's work this year. Governor Candler says he knows nothing as yet of the treasury's condition. The statement will be prepared today or tomorrow. It is generally thought from what has been said that he will have to borrow more than $100,000 in order to make the payment.

COMPTROLLER GENERAL W. A. WRIGHT refused yesterday to accept the returns submitted by the Augusta and Summerville railroad. The returns valued the property at $4,000 per mile, and the comptroller general thinks the property is worth at least $10,000 per mile. Unless the company's returns are increased, it is likely that the matter will have to be submitted to arbitration.

THE supreme court yesterday finished the last of the cases on the docket for the October term, and today the call of the docket for the March term will begin. There will be no oral argument except in criminal cases, owing to the heavy pressure of business. There are about 400 cases on the March docket to be disposed of, and the court hopes to complete work on these by August 1.

ISABELLA, GA., April 30.—(Special.)—Hon. J. M. Terrell addressed the people of Worth county here today. He spoke to a crowded court house from all parts of the county. In the audience were several ladies. His address made a fine impression on the people generally. Mr. Terrell has many warm friends and supporters all over the county.

TERRELL AT SYLVTSTER.

Sylvester, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Hon. J. M. Terrell, candidate for the democratic nomination for governor, spoke to an audience of 400 voters in the court house today at noon recess of the court. His speech was clear, forceful, logical and convincing and will undoubtedly make for him many votes in the county. His apparent earnestness and sincerity gave additional weight to the eloquence of his address. He discussed all questions involved in the campaign and dealt at length with the questions of taxation and prohibition. His views as a prohibitionist on the present general local option law have met with general approval. Mr. Terrell has many strong friends in Worth county and they are not at all afraid of the result at the polls on June 5th next.

Washington, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Hon. M. W. Gross, of Thomson, and T. E. Massengale, of Norwood, met in joint debate at Lincolnton today. The former espoused the cause of Mr. Guerry, while the latter spoke in the interest of Mr. Terrell. The speaking was characterized by some pretty warm remarks on the part of the debaters. In fact they branched off into personalities, leaving the merits or demerits of the candidates whose cause they espoused out of the debate.

Both speeches were liberally applauded. Knowing ones say it is hard to tell which of the gubernatorial candidates will capture the county. However, it is between Guerry and Terrell, with the chances in favor of the latter.

HON. MARK JOHNSTON.

Press Comments on His Candidacy.

Darien Gazette: We predict that Hon. Mark Johnston, candidate for state school commissioner, will be heard from at the primary on June 5. He is one of the most popular and best known men in the state.

Speaking Monday Night.

Sparta Ishmaelite: Candidate Johnston came to Sparta on the morning train Monday and made a forcible and interesting speech in the court house that night in furtherance of his candidacy for state school commissioner. He made things pretty lively for Commissioner Glenn at times, and made votes. The speaker lived in Sparta when a boy and has numbers of relatives in the town and county.

Hon. Mark Johnston Here.

Dublin Courier-Dispatch: Hon. Mark Johnston, of Milledgeville, candidate for state school commissioner, spoke at the court house Saturday night. The speech was well received and will be the means of winning much support for Mr. Johnston. He spent Sunday in Dublin and met a great many people, upon whom he made a good impression. He has a great many old friends here with whom he renewed acquaintance. Mr. Johnston is a polished gentleman and he is making a good race for state school commissioner. While Dr. Glenn, the present commissioner, has some strength in Laurens county, there are many people who desire a change, and Mr. Johnston's chances of carrying Laurens county may be as good as those of any of the candidates.

Cedartown Courier: Mr. Johnston is thoroughly capable of filling the position he seeks and stands for many things of the most vital importance to the taxpayers.

NEW DIRECTOR COMES TODAY

Dr. James W. Barton To Assume Charge of Gymnasium Class.

WILL SUCCEED PROF. VILLEE

Atlanta Association in Good Shape. Many Improvements Made in Bath Room and Gym.

Dr. James W. Barton, the new physical director of the Atlanta Young Men's Christian Association, whose coming has been anxiously awaited by the members for the past month, will reach Atlanta from Baltimore at 3:55 o'clock this afternoon.

The building committee has everything in readiness in the gymnasium and bath rooms. The large iron posts supporting the running track have been removed, thus greatly enlarging the floor space and making possible indoor games. Other needed improvements have also been made, and things are now in splendid shape.

The Atlanta association was the first to employ an educational director, and now takes the lead in securing a full-fledged physician as physical director. Dr. Barton is said to be one of the very best equipped men in this line of work in the country. He is an all-round man, lives in one of the very best developed bodies, is a fine athlete, a strong man on the class floor, a specialist in training men for athletic sports, a gold medalist in medicine, and a Christian gentleman.

A number of the members of the association will meet Dr. Barton on his arrival this evening and will tender him an informal reception at the building from 8 to 10 o'clock tonight. C. D. Montgomery, chairman of the gymnasium committee, will be master of ceremonies, and promptly at 8 o'clock will formally introduce Dr. Barton. The board of directors and a committee of young men will act as a reception committee, refreshments will be served, bright music will enliven the occasion, and Dr. Barton will at once feel that he is an Atlantan, and will start in his summer work with usual Atlanta enthusiasm.

TAX RETURNS MADE PUBLIC.

Georgia Railway and Electric Company Shows a Big Increase in Value.

The tax returns of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company were made to Comptroller General W. A. Wright yesterday.

The returns of the company, which include the valuation of all the street railways and street railway property in the city, amount in total to $2,301,880.

Comptroller General Wright stated yesterday that he had not had time to examine the returns in detail, but that they showed an increase of about $370,000 over the combined returns of the Atlanta Railway and Power Company and the Atlanta Rapid Transit Company made last year.

This increase of $370,000 is accounted for in part by the fact that the electric light plant is included in the returns this year, whereas the return of that property last year was made directly to the county tax receiver and to the city authorities.

This year it is the property of the railway company, and has to go into the returns made to the comptroller general. Another reason for the increased return is that there has been an increase of about 5 miles in the combined mileage of the two systems.

President Preston S. Arkwright stated last night that the total returns this year showed an increase of about $100,000 over the combined returns of the two companies as made last year.

NAVY IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Admiral Rodgers Tells of His Work in Suppressing Samar.

Washington, April 30.—A cablegram received at the navy department today from Rear Admiral Rodgers, the commander in chief of the United States naval forces on the Asiatic station, records the work being done by the navy in suppressing the insurrection in Samar. He says under date of Yokohama, April 30:

"Wildes reports 700 insurgents with 75 rifles surrendered at Catbalogan on the 27th. No more organized bandits in arms in Samar. Evans reported on the 27th and hoisted his flag on the Kentucky on the 28th. Harris has been ordered to duty as temporary governor of Olongapo."

Rear Admiral Evans relieved Rear Admiral Kempff in command of the second division of the Asiatic fleet.

TO INCREASE DEFENSE FUND.

Amalgamated Association Will Make It $100,000.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 30.—Thursday will be the last day of the Amalgamated Association convention. Today the report of the committee on constitutional and general laws was disposed of, and the report of the committee on good of the order, claims, grievances and appeals was taken up.

Considerable discussion was had over the proposed increase in the defense fund. It is now $25,000, and the proposition to increase it to $100,000 was carried. Steps will be taken at once to put the association in a position to carry on a strike for a year should one ever occur again.

Senator Money Not Well.

Washington, April 30.—Senator Money, of Mississippi, who suffered a severe shock as a result of his difficulty with a street car conductor last week, has been confined to his apartments for several days. It is doubtful whether he will be able to appear in court tomorrow when the charges growing out of the affair are to be heard.

CHARTER CHANGE SOUGHT BY MIMS

Mayor Wants the Public Works Commissioner Appointed.

WOULD ALSO NAME MARSHAL

City Executive Thinks These Officers Spend Too Much Time Seeking Reelection—Charter Commission May Take Action.

Mayor Mims wants the city marshal and the commissioner of public works appointed by the mayor instead of elected by the people, and he proposes to use every effort to bring these changes about.

"I hope," said the mayor yesterday, "that the charter revision committee will be able to change the manner of electing these two officers before the next election."

The mayor is heartily in accord with the idea of the charter commission to change the plan of electing these two officers. In fact, he says that if the committee does not take it up that he is going to urge it before them and see if they will not change the charter so that the election of the city marshal and commissioner of public works can not be taken out of the hands of the people. The mayor believes that these two officers should be appointed by the mayor, subject to the confirmation by the council, instead of being elected by the people at the polls, and he is going to try and have the charter changed so that that will be the case.

The mayor said yesterday: "These two officers are two of the most important in the city government, but if they spend a good part of their time electioneering how can they attend to the city's work. As the present law stands, the term of office is only two years, and it takes about half of that time to build up the fences. Quite naturally the officers mentioned do not want to offend any one, and they are apt to let this interfer with their duty. They should not have to go before the people, but should be appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council. I intend to urge this point before the charter revision committee an dsee if we cannot have the charter changed in that respect."

Mayor Mims has taken especial interest in the two departments mentioned, and his observations have led him to the idea above.

The charter revision committee will doubtless consider the matter and possibly the change will be made.

WORST FEARED FOR CUMMINGS.

Condition of the Congressman Not at All Favorable.

Baltimore, April 30.—The condition of Congressman Cummings is reported as less favorable than at any time during his illness. While the physicians in attendance say they have not given up hope, the worst is feared.

COUNTY ROAD IMPROVEMENTS.

Officials Schedule Work for Spring and Summer Amounting to $50,000.

Grading, paving and other road work, amounting to approximately $50,000, is to be done on the public thoroughfares of Fulton county during the spring and summer under direction of the public works committee of the board of county commissioners.

Much of the work is already in progress and plans have been made by the committee, the accomplishment of which will keep the county convicts busy during the entire summer season.

Three squads of convicts are now in service in regular work and in addition a repair squad is doing duty.

Probably the most important improvement on the programme is the paving with asphalt of the streets about the court house and city hall. This work is scheduled for June and will be pushed rapidly to completion. The total expense is to be borne jointly by the county and city.

Other work in progress is on the Sandtown road from West End to Adamsville; on the Howell's mill road from the water works basin to the 9-mile post, and on Spring and West Peachtree streets. All of this work consists of grading and macadamizing. Spring street is being extended the distance of a mile, while West Peachtree is being improved from the city limits to the junction with Peachtree street in the direction of Brookwood.

The visitors devoted the afternoon to sightseeing and later visited the national cemetery at Arlington, the old home of Robert E. Lee.

The board of directors will meet on May 7, when a permanent organization will be perfected. This will include the election of a president, treasurer and thirty-one additional directors.

AGRICULTURAL BILL PASSED.

House Then Takes Up the District of Columbia Measure.

Washington, April 30.—The house today passed the agricultural appropriation bill and entered upon the consideration of the District of Columbia appropriation bill, the last but two of the regular supply measures.

By the terms of a special rule adopted before the district bill was taken up, it will be in order to attach a rider to it to make operative the existing personal tax law of the district, which has been a dead letter for twenty years. Chairman Cannon estimated that there was $100,000,000 of untaxed personal property in Washington.

POWER STOCKS TAKE TUMBLE.

Net Loss of 78 Points Recorded in Yesterday's Dealings.

New York, April 30.—International Power stocks, which had had a phenomenal rise lately, broke heavily today, closing at 75, a net loss of 78 points. Close to 18,000 shares were traded in.

Joseph K. Hoadley, president of the International Power Company, gave out a statement tonight, which, however, supplied no information as to the cause in the decline in the price of the company's shares. Mr. Hoadley stated that he is the largest holder of this stock as an investment, and that today he added to his holdings by purchases from 198 to 167. The stock he owns, he added, is paid for and is not for sale. Mr. Hoadley said further that "the earnings of the company are such as to insure at least the continued payment of full dividends on the preferred and the present rate of 10 per cent on the common."

AMERICAN FLAG NOT RESPECTED

Cherokee of Clyde Line Held at a Dominican Port.

Vessel Not Allowed To Sail for Samana — Entire Republic Alive with Rebels and Outlook for the Government Is Bad.

Cape Haiten, Haiti, April 30.—The governor of Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, prevented the departure from that port for Samana of the Clyde line steamer Cherokee. Her commander protested. She will leave later for Santo Domingo direct. The Cherokee is an American vessel.

The Dominican revolutionists are at present in the vicinty of Cotuy and Santo Domingo, which cities, it is reported here, they contemplate attacking tomorrow.

All the Cibao region except Puerto Plata on the north coast, is in the hands of the revolutionists. Another uprising has broken out in the south of the Dominican republic. The position of the Dominican government appears to be very critical.

A battle was fought yesterday at Sosua. The agent there of the United Fruit Company, an American concern, was obliged to leave his house and, with his family, take refuge on some rocks along the coast. The local governor has sent reinforcements to Sosua.

BURGHERS VOTE ON PEACE.

It Will Be Two Weeks Before the Result Is Known.

Pretoria, April 30.—In pursuance of an understanding reached by the Boer delegates at the conference recently held here, the delegates are busy visiting the burghers in the field.

General Botha, the Transvaal commander in chief, Acting President Schalk-Burger, of the Transvaal; General Delarey, General Lucas Meyer, commander in chief, of the Orange Free State forces; Secretary of State Reitz, of the Transvaal; Mr. Steyn, ex-president of the Orange Free State, and General Dewet have each taken a separate district for the purpose of conferring with the commandoes as rapidly as possible.

After these conferences a general meeting has been arranged for at Vereeging, Transvaal, May 25, when a final decision is expected. It is believed among the Boers who have surrendered and other well-informed persons, that the peace outlook is favorable, if the delegates place the situation fairly before the burghers.

London, April 30.—The officials of the foreign office say they do not expect definite news regarding peace much earlier than a fortnight from date. Meanwhile they consider the prospects favorable. The question of amnesty to the Cape rebels is understood to constitute the obstacle at present.

FOR JAILED AMERICANS SECRETARY HAY WORKS

He Has Instructed Ambassador Meyer To Use His Good Offices To Secure Release of Naval Officers from Italian Prison.

ROME, April 30.—The officers of the United States cruiser Chicago, who were arrested at Venice, remain in prison there. An application for their discharge has been rejected. The Italian law does not allow the court to grant pardon in cases of assaults on the police.

Some of the newspapers mention the lynchings of Italians in the United States as sufficient reason for a refusal of royal clemency. It is considered probable, however, that the prisoners will be released by order of the king, June 1, the date of the fete of the constitution.

A representative of the Associated Press has been informed at the general office that General Meyer, the United States ambassador here, has not demanded the release of the imprisoned officers of the cruiser Chicago, and that the latter, by their appeal from the sentence of the court, have submitted themselves to the Italian law. It is believed at the foreign office that any diplomatic action in this matter would be out of place, while the question remained under the consideration of the Italian court.

State Department at Work.

Washington, April 30.—Secretary Long has received the following cablegram from Captain Dayton, of the Chicago, dated Venice, yesterday, in answer to the department's inquiry:

"Doddridge, Wynne, Ledbetter, Kress and one marine, on leave, arrested. Principal charge, resisting police. Serious under Italian law. Sentences: Wynne, four months ten days; remainder, three months each. Have not yet their full statement or a report from court, but applied for. Resisting arrest largely due to pressing in of crowd and not understanding language. Appeal made to Rome."

The state department has begun the exercise of its good offices in the interests of the officers of the Chicago. Secretary Hay has communicated by cable with Mr. Meyer, the United States ambassador, on this subject, and good results are hoped for.

MORGANS CLOSE THE TRADE.

White Star Line Will Be in Shipping Trust.

London, April 30.—The Morgans, who had until today the option of confirming or withdrawing from the provisional agreement by which the White Star line was to enter the Atlantic shipping combine, have notified that line of their intention to carry through their part of the agreement.

An official statement on the subject was issued by the White Star line this evening. It says:

"The White Star line entered into a provisional agreement with the Morgan Company in February, with the object of securing community of interest between the American, Atlantic Transport, Dominion, Leyland, Red Star and White Star lines. The agreement was binding on the White Star line, but it was optional as regards Mr. Morgan until April 30, upon which date the agreement expired unless extended by mutual consent. Mr. Morgan today has given notice to the White Star line of his intention to exercise the option, and of proceeding with the agreement. It is now in order for the agreement to be submitted to the shareholders of the White Star line and other companies, the confirmation resting absolutely in the shareholders' hands. The shareholders of the White Star line will meet in May."

The Associated Press understands that J. Pierpont Morgan gets £2,500,000 in stock of the shipping combine in return for his services in organizing and financing it.

PRINCESS IS SENTENCED ON A CHARGE OF FORGERY

Capetown, April 30.—Princess Radzivill, who has been on trial here before the supreme court on the charge of forgery in connection with notes purporting to have been indorsed by the late Cecil Rhodes, was sentenced today to two years' confinement in the house of correction.

The attorney general made a long address, in which he cautioned the jury against being mystified by telegrams from "hare-brained individuals like William T. Stead and others," and alleged incriminating documents which "were merely the ordinary armament of a blackmailer." Continuing, he said:

"Nothing could be more gross and treacherous than the prisoner's behavior throughout." He appealed to the jury to arrive at a verdict on the evidence which would rid society temporarily, at least, "of a cruel and dangerous woman."

Counsel for the defense appealed to the jury on the ground that nobody had suffered by the frauds and said that a verdict of guilty would be equivalent to hanging the princess to the nearest tree, for then every door in Europe would in the future be closed against her.

The chief justice cautioned the jury to disregard the prisoner's noble birth and antecedents.

After a brief retirement the jury brought in a verdict of guilty on all the counts against her.

The chief justice, then addressed the prisoner impressively. He referred to her birth, her education and her position in society. He deplored the two dark features of her case, namely, the attempts to incriminate the innocent Mrs. Schultz and the bribing of a boy in the employ of the postoffice to forge a date line on the alleged cablegram from B. A. Hawksley. Owing to her delicate health the chief justice said she would not have to perform hard labor, but that she would be confined for two years in the house of correction or any other place the governor was pleased to appoint.

The prisoner bowed her head and received her sentence calmly.

JUSTICE COURT IN CLASH WITH POLICE

Contempt Proceedings Issued by Justice Bateman.

OFFICERS IGNORE WARRANT

Charge Made That Justices of the Peace Settle Felony Cases—Judge Bateman Denies—Recorder Broyles Disclaims Part in Controversy.

As the result of a difference of opinion as to the respective jurisdiction of the justice of the peace courts and the police court, Justice of the Peace J. N. Bateman and the police have clashed. Yesterday morning an order was issued by Judge Bateman, citing Detectives H. D. White, E. W. Walton and Patrick Campbell to show cause before him Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock why they should not be punished for contempt of court.

The contempt proceedings grew out of the refusal of the three officers Friday night to turn over a prisoner to Bailiff E. D. O'Connor for trial in Judge Bateman's court. Instead, the negro was given a hearing before Recorder Broyles Saturday and was bound over to the state courts. The justice claims that the detectives had no right to ignore the warrant and that the police court exceeded its jurisdiction in binding over the prisoner.

The officers give as a reason for their refusal to deliver the prisoner to the bailiff that they were holding him on a city charge. Bailiff O'Connor states that Officer Watson also told him that the justice courts had been following the practice of settling felony cases and that the police did not intend to have that particular case settled. He says the detective stated that he knew the warrant for the negro was merely a pretext to effect a settlement.

Judge Bateman's Denial.

Judge Bateman emphatically denies these charges. He states that there has never been a felony case settled in his court, and that such a charge is absurd; also, that, so far as he knows, there was no such motive behind the issuance of the warrant.

This state of affairs forms an interesting controversy and the outcome will be watched with interest. Should the detectives be adjudged in contempt, their punishment would be imprisonment in jail for five hours and a fine of $5. This penalty is the limit of a justice of the peace's jurisdiction in such matters.

Recorder Broyles was questioned in reference to the controversy, and strongly protested his innocence of being at war with anybody.

Recorder Broyles Talks.

"I certainly am in no controversy," said he. "The fact is, it is too hot to get into a war just at present, and then, besides, I am a man of peace. I have not exceeded my jurisdiction in the case at issue and have never done so. The law gives me the power and it is my duty to bind over in cases where it develops that a state law has been violated.

"The prisoner came before me on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by the detectives, and the evidence showed that he had stolen a cow. I then proceeded to bind him over, as was my duty. I propose to conduct my court as I think proper, and I do not intend to dictate to any justice of the peace how he shall conduct his court."

The prisoner is Carson Hunter, colored. He was locked in the police station Friday, and a short time later a warrant was issued for him by Judge Bateman on the affidavit of A. B. Cummings. The warrant involved the cow stealing case and charged larceny. It was placed in the hands of Bailiff O'Connor for service, but when he reached the police station he was refused the prisoner. He then left the warrant there and took his departure. Yesterday morning the contempt proceedings followed.

GOES TO MILITARY ACADEMY.

Professor A. G. Villee Accepts Responsible Position at College Park.

Professor A. G. Villee, who, for the past four years has been physical director of the Atlanta Young Men's Christian Association, has engaged with the Georgia Military Academy at College Park, where he will be physical director of the school, and instructor in manual training. He will give special attention to the spiritual life of the cadets, being eminently fitted for that purpose by his ten years' experience in the service of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Professor Villee has many friends in Atlanta who will be glad to know that his recent operation for appendicitis has not interefered with the continuance of his profession, and that he will in the future be engaged in educational work in Atlanta's fair suburb.

He is regarded as one of the finest men in his line of work in the south.

"PE-RU-NA IS OF ESPECIAL BENEFIT TO WOMEN,"

SAYS DR. M. C. GEE, OF SAN FRANCISCO.

Mrs. E. T. Gaddis, Marion, N. C., is one of Dr. Hartman's grateful patients. She consulted him by letter, followed his directions, and is now able to say the following:

"Before I commenced to take Peruna I could not do any hard work without suffering great pain. I took Peruna, and can say with pleasure that it has done more for me than any other medicine I have ever taken. Now I am as well as ever; I do all my own work and it never hurts me at all. I think Peruna is a great medicine for womankind."

MRS. E. T. GADDIS.

Dr. M. C. Gee's Experience.

Dr. M. C. Gee is one of the physicians who indorse Peruna. In a letter written from 513 Jones street, San Francisco, Cal., he says:

"There is a general objection on the part of the practicing physician to advocate patent medicines. But when any one medicine cures hundreds of people, it demonstrates its own value and does not need the endorsement of the profession.

"Peruna has performed so many wonderful cures in San Francisco that I am convinced that it is a valuable remedy. I have frequently advised its use for women, as I find it insures regular and painless menstruation, cures leucorrhoea and ovarian troubles, and builds up the entire system. I also consider it one of the finest catarrh remedies I know of. I heartily endorse your medicine."

M. C. GEE, M. D.

Miss Rose De la Sen, 16 Windsor avenue, Windsor, Ontario, Secretary of the French Women's Clubs of Ontario, Canada, writes:

"I have been a sufferer from ovarian troubles for over four years, which caused me excruciating pains at times, and life looked very dreary to me. My family physician and other doctors prescribed for me, but failed dismally in relieving me, but I am pleased to state that after years of suffering I have been entirely cured by your woman's friend, Peruna."

Mary F. Bartholomew, St. Francisville, Ills., says: "About twelve years ago I was afflicted with female trouble, (pelvic catarrh). I doctored with several skillful physicians, but kept getting worse until I became bedfast. I was in this condition about two years, under the attendance of four physicians. I got no better during this time. Finally, looking over Dr. Hartman's female book I concluded I would write for advice. I am not sorry I did so. I owe my life to Dr. Hartman and Peruna. My friends and neighbors never expected to see me well again."—Mary F. Bartholomew.

Diseases Peculiar to Women.

This title includes a number of the most distressing affections to which humanity is liable. The symptoms set up by the various phases of female weakness are very numerous, and in no two cases exactly alike.

The most prominent and universal symptoms are bearing down pains, dragging sensations in abdomen, backache, leucorrhoea, nervousness, periodical headaches, sleeplessness, dizziness, loss of appetite and painful or suppressed or profuse menstruation.

For all of these symptoms, as well as for the condition that causes them, Peruna is a reliable specific, and at once relieves every case. It will not fail in a short time to permanently benefit these derangements. It will, finally, entirely cure a great majority of them after all else has failed.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

April 1902.

At the New Stores.

April was an epoch making month in the Muse business: It accomplished the first mile post at the new stores and scored the highest mark of success of any preceding April. It is certain that with the same hearty co-operation received from the people in the past, Muse's will be capable of still greater things.

When the new building was turned over to us a month ago, the contractor said that it was not only the most up-to-date and best arranged store of its kind in the whole south, but that the interior finishing was the handsomest. Since then others have told us the same thing. We have never made any claims for the physical part of our store, because that speaks for itself. But it is pleasant to have a home that folks admire and approve of, isn't it?

Our May Day promise is, better service for man and boy. Everything that's good to wear you'll get it hear.

VALENTINE SENT BACK FOR TRIAL

Governor Candler Honors Requisition from State of Minnesota.

WIFE DESERTION CHARGED

Valentine Was Bookkeeper for the Georgia Railway and Electric Company—Minnesota Law Makes Failure To Support Family a Felony.

Governor Candler yesterday turned over to an officer from Minnesota, to be carried back there for trial on the charge of failing to support his wife and children, Fred D. Valentine, one of the bookkeepers of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company.

R. L. Penny, as agent for Governor Samuel R. Van Sant, of Minnesota, arrived in the city yesterday morning with the requisition and called at once at the governor's office. Valentine was placed under arrest and secured the services of Payne & Tye in an effort to resist the granting of the requisition.

The complaint against Valentine is that he deserted his wife and two little girls in Minneapolis and left them without means of support. Under the laws of Minnesota this crime is held to be a felony.

Valentine in presenting his case to Governor Candler stated that an effort was being made to carry him back to Minnesota merely because of a debt. He said that he had been unable to earn a support for his wife and children in Minneapolis, and had come here in order that he might better his circumstances.

Governor Candler, after hearing the details of the case, decided to honor the requisition because it was made out in conformity with the statute of Minnesota, charging Valentine with deserting and failing to support his wife and children, this charge being a felony in that state.

Valentine has been here several months and has held a fairly good position as one of the bookkeepers for the street railway company at a salary of something like $1,000 a year. Valentine is a man of good address, about 35 years of age.

Mr. Penny left the city yesterday afternoon with his prisoner to return to Minneapolis via Chicago.

MAYOR ROASTS CAB SERVICE.

He Proposes To Make a Personal Inspection of All City Cabs.

Mayor Mims is going to start a crusade against the Atlanta cabs. He declared yesterday that Atlanta had the worst lot of cabs on earth and that half if not three-fourths of them were not fit to be seen on the streets, much less to ride in.

There is an ordinance that regulates cabs and specifies that they must be in good condition before they can go on the streets. The cabs are also given an annual inspection by the police department and the ones that are too bad are turned down.

The mayor is fastidious about the kind of vehicle he rides in and he is going to take Chief Ball along with him and woe unto the cab that does not come up to the regulations.

OFFICER PUNISHED FOR USING PISTOL

Police Board Suspends Lockhart for Shooting a Negro.

WILL ALSO BE REPRIMANDED

Use of Billies and Pistols by Policemen Comes Up for Discussion in Police Board.

What use must a policeman make of his billy and when must he use his pistol were the questions that came up before the board of commissioners last night when Officer T. E. Lockhart was arraigned for shooting at a fleeing prisoner.

Officer Lockhart pleaded not guilty to the charge and said that while he admitted firing at the prisoner to frighten him, he did not think he had superseded his powers as an officer of the law.

The evidence before the board was that Officers Lockhart and Hannah found a negro asleep on Decatur street, opposite a store, at 1 o'clock in the morning. Officer Lockhart was standing near by when he saw the prisoner ash away and heard Officer Hannah call out, "Halt." Both policemen started in pursuit of the fugitive. During the chase Officer Lockhart drew his pistol and fired twice. The negro was finally caught and after his arrest he told the attaches at the police barracks that he had been shot. He was taken to the hospital, where a wound in his leg was dressed.

The police board found Officer Lockhart guilty of violating one of the rules of the department and suspended him nineteen days and instructed the chief to reprimand him in the presence of his watch.

The board had a long discussion about a policeman's billy and pistol. One commissioner pulled out a rule book and read with much emphasis the following from the "Police School of Instruction:"

"Question: Under what circumstances may a policeman legally make use of his batton or billy?"

"Answer: When assaulted in a violent manner by one or more persons of superior physical strength to himself, and then only to protect himself from injury."

"Question: Under what circumstances must a policeman use his pistol?"

"Answer: He should never draw or attempt to use his pistol except in extraordinary cases, such as in the actual defense of his own or another's life; when attacked with deadly weapon or in active pursuit of escaping criminals, charged with great crimes—a murder, burglary, arson, etc."

In making up a verdict the police board took in consideration the fact that Officer Lockhart had made a most excellent policeman.

SAM JONES IS QUITE ILL.

Well-Known Evangelist Is Confined to His Home in Cartersville by Chronic Indigestion.

Rev. Sam P. Jones, the well known evangelist, is quite ill at his home in Cartersville. Dr. Virgil O. Hardon went up yesterday afternoon to attend him.

Mr. Jones is suffering from chronic indigestion, which has become intestinal, and has taken a catarrhal form. His illness is not of a serious character, but will confine him to his home for several weeks.

The Constitution communicated with Mr. Jones by telephone last night. Mr. Jones states that his illness has been brought on by overwork, and that although he has no fears of its being permanent, still it will keep him from his work for at least three weeks. The many friends of Mr. Jones in Georgia and throughout the south will regret to hear of his illness and will wish him a speedy recovery.

MURRAY HILL CLUB!

CINCINNATI, O.

The Bijou Musical Comedy Company is now more firmly established in the good graces of the Atlanta theatergoers. Yesterday large audiences were delightfully pleased with a matinee and evening productions of Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York," more so than any other production of the play ever seen here, because of the fact that there is the brightest and most original music scattered all through the three acts, that grade the applause—first a ripple and then a roar, as the action of the play glides swiftly along, dispelling blues and creating laughter.

When the company began its struggles there was anticipated work ahead to convince the theatergoers that an organization head and shoulders over the best and strongest attraction of the kind in existence would furnish the summer entertaining at the Grand at a most convenient and easy-to-reach scale of prices, but the local theatergoers have shown that they are not in the least slow, for the receipts have improved with every performance, until now, unless seats are engaged well in advance, it is a case of "go way back and stand up." The gallery gods at first held back. They did not see any flaming circus posters on the walls, and overlooked a good thing until it was told around what a great treat the Grand offered at a price easy to reach, and now that part of the theater is running a race with down stairs, as to attendance records.

"A Stranger in New York" is, in the opinion of the theater patrons, the best of the three shows so far seen. In fact, if the "lines" of the play should be eliminated, there are specialties enough, together with the musical numbers, to make one of the best vaudeville bills ever produced here, so really the people are seeing a Hoyt show and a vaudeville bill for the price of one ticket to the gallery for some of the very ordinary productions seen recently here.

Otis Harlan, Agnes Rose Lane, Tony Hart and Mary Marble are capturing the the laurels in the play proper, and in the musical programme Miss Marble, Little Chip, Otis Harlan, John W. Early and that delightful band of musical maidens gladden hearts.

Next week the popular favorites will present the play Hoyt wrote for Otis Harlan, "A Black Sheep," and Mr. Harlan will be seen in the part of "Hot Stuff," his own creation, supported by the Bijous.

As to Prices

It's easy to get bargains at the wane of a season, but it's a test of a store's efficiency and breadth of buying policy to give such values on such wanted things at the opening of the season when people would pay full price without question. The prices on these garments are values without equal, and garment without a peer. Sufficient variety is shown to prevent everybody from having the same tub dress, another point C.-J.-D. always look to.

BOER OFFICER WILL SPEAK

Commandant Jan Krige To Deliver Address Tonight at Court House.

WILL DISCUSS THE SITUATION

Boer Agent at New Orleans Says He Knows Nothing of Krige.

Jan Krige, a commandant in the Boer army, will speak tonight at the court house on the situation in South Africa. The Boer officer arrived in the city yesterday, and at once made preparations to deliver an address.

Commandant Krige has been traveling in the United States recently, urging the people to remain neutral between the Boers and the British. He delivered an address in New Orleans on April 10. He will go from here to Chattanooga and Norfolk.

The commandant served under General Botha, commander in chief of the Boer forces. He was sent to the Portuguese territory to await better equipment, but was prevented by the Portuguese from returning to the field. He then came to the United States, leaving South Africa in October, 1900. He brings letters of introduction from George Birkhoff, consul of the Netherlands; William J. Bryan and others.

The following special, received from New Orleans, tells of the visit of the Boer to that city:

Krige in New Orleans.

"New Orleans, April 29.—(Special.)—Commandant Jan Krige, claiming to be a Boer and an officer in the Boer army, came to New Orleans early in April and lectured on April 10 at Odd Fellows hall on "The American Mule," giving a running account of the leading Boer officers, including President Steyn, General Dewet, Botha and others, with whom Krige was acquainted. The meeting was well attended, there being 600 persons present; ex-Mayor John Fitzpatrick presided.

"Strong resolutions were adopted calling on the president to intervene in South Africa and break up the British camp in Chalmette. Commandant Krige declared that he had been captured by the British, but had escaped.

"General Samuel Pearson, the Boer agent here said that he knew nothing about Krige, and could have known nothing about him, but he did not mean to imply by this that he disbelieved his statements or that he had any reason to doubt his stories here. Commandant Krige returned here after his lecture to defend himself if any charges were made against him as not being a Boer, but none were made.

"General Pearson has declared that there are several British spies masquerading in America as Boers in order to get information, and he mentions one he met in New Orleans.

This is supposed to refer to Captain De Villiers, who came here as a Boer, but was declared to be in close relationship with the British."

GOVERNOR PARDONS BARRY.

Soldier Took Two Years in Penitentiary Rather Than One on Chaingang.

Governor Candler yesterday, on recommendation of the prison commission, pardoned J. L. Barry, the soldier from Fort McPherson, who shot Policeman Quinn about a year ago. The policeman was trying to arrest the soldier at the time of the shooting.

When Barry was convicted in Judge Candler's court of shooting at another not in his own defense and the jury recommended that he be punished as for a misdemeanor, Barry, who had evidently heard some statements made about the chaingang that he did not relish, requested the court to sentence him to two years in the state penitentiary in preference to one year on the chaingang. Judge Candler acceded to the prisoner's request and gave him two years in the penitentiary.

Barry has already served one year in the penitentiary and has made a good record as a prisoner. The commission in recommending that he be pardoned took into consideration the fact that it was the court's intention to give him only one year on the chaingang and as he has served that year the commission decided to make a favorable recommendation.

PASSENGER CAR IS SPLINTERED

Coach on A., K. and N. Loaded With People Thrown from the Track.

MANY BADLY INJURED BUT NONE ARE KILLED

This Car Jumped the Rails Near the Passenger Depot in Canton, Ga., Yesterday Morning, Crashing with Its Human Freight.

Canton, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—This morning as the north bound passenger on the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern was slowing up to stop at the depot the rear trucks of the rear coach jumped the track at a switch about 300 yards south of the depot. The coach was thrown upon its side several feet away from the track.

Several passengers were in the coach. All were more or less hurt and bruised. No one was killed, although it seems as if by miracle only any were saved from instant death. The coach is badly wrecked.

Among the injured are:

Conductor Bob Black, several contusions about the body. He was standing about midway the coach when it left the track.

Monroe Westbrook, of Cherokee county, received several bad cuts about the face and his face is badly mashed.

Drummer Pool, of Atlanta, is hurt about the back. He is now here.

Mrs. J. M. Pendleton, of St. Louis, has some internal injuries and she and her husband are also here. They were en route to Knoxville, Tenn.

Drummer T. Reynolds, of Madisonville, Tenn. had his right knee cap bursted and received other slight bruises. He was en route to Knoxville to attend the marriage of a friend.

P. S. Brownlee, of Mineral Bluff, had left arm hurt and also received other bruises.

W. H. Shippen, of Ellijay, was hurt about the hip, in the hand and elsewhere.

Atlanta Woman in the Wreck.

Mrs. Everett Powell, of Atlanta, was in the wreck with two children, but fortunately they all got out without serious hurt, although Mrs. Powell received some pretty severe bruises. In the excitement she and her baby in arms became separated from the other child for quite awhile and it was feared the child was killed until it was found under some seats in the upturned car all right and unhurt.

Professor Emmett Stephens, of the North Georgia Baptist college, Morganton, received some slight bruises, but was happy that he got out alive.

There were twenty-odd members of a carnival and street fair company on board en route to Blue Ridge and several of them were in the upturned coach and more or less hurt. Mrs. Orzuman had a 3-weeks-old baby in her arms, but the child was not awakened nor the mother hurt beyond the jar and a slight bruise to her left elbow in catching to protect the child. Mr. Orzuman was thrown over against her, but caught before falling upon her very heavily.

All in the car were more or less jarred and bruised from having been thrown so violently to the floor or against the side of the coach. One man on the rear platform was thrown off the car into a mud hole near the road. Dr. J. E. N. Turk, the road's surgeon, at this place, was promptly on hand and administered all possible relief to the suffering. Nearby residents carried the wounded into their houses and cared for them until medical assistance could be rendered.

The exact cause of the wreck is not known, but it is supposed that a sharp flange on one of the rear truck wheels rode the switch rail and threw the switch open enough to pull the rear trucks upon the cotton factory siding, while the front trucks remained on the main line, which threw the car. It made one of the ugliest and most dangerous looking wrecks that has ever occurred to a passenger train on the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern.

DUEL FOUGHT TO THE DEATH

James Spence, of Waycross, Killed at Pine Bloom.

SMITH SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

It Is Reported as a Renewal of a Difficulty Started Several Weeks Ago.

Waycross, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Dr. J. M. Spence has received information that his cousin, James Spence, was killed in an impromptu duel today at Pine Bloom with a log contractor named Smith.

The two men had quarreled some time ago. This morning they met at Pine Bloom, and each pulled a revolver and began shooting.

Young Spence was shot in the neck, and died almost instantly. Smith received one or more bullets through the stomach, and is reported tonight to be dying.

It is reported that this was a renewal of a difficulty in which they engaged two weeks ago. Spence was the youngest son of Major John Spence, of this county, and married. Smith is from North Carolina, and is single.

You may talk about your champagnes, but I know of none as popular as Cook's Imperial Extra Dry.

Negro Is Lynched in Kentucky for Killing White Man.

Brandenburg, Ky., April 30.—Ernest Dewley, a negro, who shot and seriously wounded Harry Dowell, a young white man at Guston, about 7 miles from this place, was hanged by a mob at 2:30 o'clock this morning and his body riddled with bullets. The mob took him from the jail.

The shooting which caused the lynching took place yesterday afternoon. Dewley had been ejected from Pickeral's saloon at Guston and later, meeting Pickeral at the railroad station, opened fire on him. The shots flew wild, however, and struck Harry Dowell, a bystander, seriously wounding him. The negro was arrested and brought here, a safeguard against lynching.

County Judge Hagan today held an inquest on the body, returning, finding that death had resulted at the hands of persons unknown. Circuit court is in session and the grand jury will investigate the lynching immediately.

THE NEW ALABAMA RAILROAD.

Decatur Citizens Have Money Ready for the Central.

Decatur, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—The third adjourned mass meeting of Decatur citizens was held at the court house today. Final action was taken on the citizens' part toward putting on foot active work on the Central Railway of Alabama, of which John Carlisle, of Cincinnati, is president, and which is to connect Decatur, Tuscaloosa and New Orleans.

All financial arrangements have been completed so far as agreed to by citizens and promoters. The money for building the road is now on deposit subject to check. All necessary terminal facilities have been secured for depot, shops, etc., work of securing rights of way is progressing rapidly and the permanent survey is nearly completed.

The Central Railway of Alabama will be given outlet north, east and west over tracks of the Southern railway, and put into operation the 3-mile detour line built some years ago, which will carry the Southern into New Decatur. The road will be completed to Jasper, Ala., in a year and to Tuscaloosa in six months more.

Commencement at Kingston.

Kingston, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—The closing exercises of our High school will take place the 8th and 9th of May. This closes one of the most successful years ever known in the school history of Kingston. The teachers are Mr. and Mrs. Whittenberg. The commencement sermon will be preached next Sunday by Rev. J. M. Tumlin. At night Rev. John W. Akin, of Cartersville, will deliver the literary address.

Negro Uses Ax on Another.

Nashville, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—A negro named Walter Robinson, working at the tie camp of R. C. Lester, was severely cut by another, named Will Baldwin. Both negroes were at work cutting ties when an altercation ensued and Baldwin, it is said, grabbed Robinson's broadax and struck at him. The ax, flying off the handle, struck him in three places.

HE HAS WIVES IN MANY STATES

So Says Claud E. Chapman, Now in Toccoa Jail Charged With Bigamy.

AGAINST FATHER'S WORD HE MARRIED GIRL THERE

The Wedding Is Solemnized Soon After the Departure of a Woman Who Lived with Him, Claiming To Be His Wife.

Toccoa, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Claud E. Chapman, of Greenville, S. C., was today sent to the county jail to await the next term of the superior court of Habersham county, charged with bigamy.

Chapman is a young man about 24 years of age, and first appeared in Toccoa about one month ago as a fruit tree agent. Soon after he came here his wife appeared, and they spent two or three weeks together at a boarding house in the city. During this time, while Mrs. Chapman was still in Toccoa, Chapman was paying considerable attention to Miss Gussie Lovell, the daughter of G. H. Lovell, of this place.

For some reason Mrs. Chapman returned to South Carolina to Chapman's father's last Tuesday, April 23. On the same day Chapman requested of Mr. Lovell the hand of his daughter, Miss Gussie, in marriage. Mr. Lovell replied that he could not consent to the marriage until he could learn something of the man who desired to marry his daughter. Two days later, Thursday night, Chapman procured license, went to the residence of Rev. W. S. Whitmire, accompanied by Miss Lovell, and there the twain were made one.

Chapman Is Arrested.

They returned to Mr. Lovell's, where they remained until the next morning. During the day Mr. Lovell heard that Chapman had introduced a woman in Toccoa as his wife, and had lived with her here for several weeks. He at once had Chapman arrested.

Mrs. Chapman No. 1 was notified that her husband was in serious trouble in Georgia. She at once came to see him, thinking that she could be of some help to him in his trouble. No one here knew whether they were really husband and wife. When Mrs. Chapman No. 1 arrived she met a very cold reception at the hands of her husband. Finding that she would be the means of sending him to prison if she remained in Georgia, she made her visit very short. Eluding the officers, who were watching her, she returned at once to Carolina.

Mr. Lovell, without delay, instituted a search for evidence of the South Carolina marriage. This was no easy task, as in that state no record of marriage is kept by the county authorities. After three days it was ascertained that the marriage ceremony was performed in Greenville county by Rev. J. P. Attaway, who is now stationed near Pickens.

Mr. Attaway could not be reached in time to try Chapman before he could demand a release. Mr. Attaway's little daughter, Bertha, 13 years old, who witnessed the ceremony, which was a private one, was induced to come to Georgia to furnish the evidence. She arrived here this morning, accompanied by her aunt, Miss Rosa Attaway, of Williamston, S. C. When Chapman found that sufficient evidence was at hand he waived trial and was sent to jail in default of bond.

He Denies Marriage.

Chapman has all along maintained his innocence, saying that, although he was living with Miss Julia Jacobs, wife No. 1, he was not married to her. Chapman and Mrs. Chapman No. 1 are both of good family and are well known in Greenville county, South Carolina.

Chapman is a young man of prepossessing appearance and made a good impression upon the people of this community. He dresses well and it now develops that he owns a considerable amount of property in South Carolina. Mrs. Chapman No. 1 is a very modest woman, and while here with Chapman remained at her boarding house and it was not generally known that he had a wife with him.

When asked if he did not know that he would get into trouble by marrying a second time, Chapman replied that he had lived in many states and had a different wife in every state in which he had lived, but that no one would ever be able to secure evidence to convict him of bigamy.

Miss Lovell, whose father is a man of very modest means, but a highly respected citizen, says that she will have nothing further to do with Chapman and that she wishes him to be punished.

HE KILLS MAN TO SAVE SELF

R. R. Jones, Prominent Morgan County Farmer, Is Acquitted.

CLEMONS HAD BEEN DRINKING

Attempt To Pacify Him Causes Guns To Be Drawn, Jones Being the Quicker.

Madison, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—A shooting affray occurred in the upper part of this county late yesterday evening, which, on account of the prominence of the parties involved, has created great excitement throughout this section.

R. R. Jones, one of the most successful and extensive farmers of Morgan county, shot and killed "Net" Clemons, his farm manager. The facts as learned are as follows:

Both Jones and Clemons have been sick for the past week, neither being able to attend to their farm duties. Yesterday morning Jones, who had somewhat recovered, went out in his buggy to superintend his hands, leaving Clemons in bed at his (Jones') house.

During Jones' absence from home Clemons procured and drank three pints of whisky and became very much intoxicated. In this state he became wild and used some very harsh epithets against Mrs. Jones and her sister.

When Jones returned from the field late yesterday evening he heard Clemons, who was still in the room he had occupied all day, cursing and swearing. He went up to the intoxicated man's room for the purpose, he states, of quieting and pacifying him. Clemons was lying on the bed when Jones entered. Jones walked up to the fireplace, and leaning against the mantel asked Clemons what was the matter, and why he was using such abusive language.

Clemons Drew Pistol.

Instead of replying, Clemons slipped his hand under the bed covering and drew out his pistol, full cocked. Quick as a flash Jones drew his own pistol and shot, the ball grazing Clemons' temple. Clemons wheeled over on one side in order to get a better view of Jones, when Jones shot twice in succession, both balls passing through Clemons' head, killing him almost instantly.

An inquest was held on Clemons' remains this evening, the jury bringing in a verdict of justifiable homicide and Jones is now free.

The affair is deeply regretted here, as both parties were well known and had many friends throughout this section.

W. Jolly and I. H. Lindsey will have their names placed on the supernumary list."

D. M. BAIN FOR ALDERMAN.

Well-Known Citizen May Make the Race This Year from North Side.

The friends of Donald M. Bain, who supported him for councilman last year, have been urging him to become a candidate for alderman for the north side in the election this year. Mr. Bain has not yet yielded to their requests, but has promised to consider them. He does not wish to enter a scramble race and his friends believe if he will consent now to offer for the position there will be no opposition. He is popular and has always been an active and liberal promoter of Atlanta's growth and prosperity. For that reason his admirers are anxious to see him given a clear field to this representative honor.

Carroll Payne, who has been vice president for several years. Mr. Payne was not a candidate for reelection.

The following members of the club were elected to the governing board: Fulton Colville, chairman; S. F. Parrott, Thomas Egleston, W. E. Chapin, Robert F. Shedden, J. W. Pope, H. M. Atkinson and Joseph T. Orme.

WIRE TAPPERS PLAY IN LUCK.

Two Pool Rooms at Louisville Are Touched for $1,500.

Louisville, Ky., April 30.—Two Louisville pool room proprietors and the local police are convinced that the rooms today lost $1,500 to wire tappers—though one room subsequently got back $700—and were only prevented from losing many times that amount by the refusal of the rooms to play the game any longer.

Two strangers each bet on Flush of Gold in the fourth race at San Francisco at odds of 7 to 1 in the betting and the telegraph operators announced Flush of Gold the winner, whereas he finished fourth. One room lost $700 and the other $800.

In the fifth race at San Francisco one of the strangers wanted to back Maraschino at 15 to 1, but the pool room refused to lay a wager. The other rooms allowed the winner $700 to put it all on Maraschino, but when Maraschino was announced the winner the proprietor refused to pay, saying he would wait for a verification of the result.

CLEMSON IS STILL EXCITED

Juniors and Freshmen Start To Leave College.

Charleston, S. C., April 30.—There is still great excitement at Clemson college due to the rebellion of the entire sophomore class, and their leaving college yesterday.

The junior and freshman classes met last night and resolved to leave the college this morning in a body unless the faculty call for a meeting of the trustees and had the entire sophomore class, including Cadet Thornwell, reinstated.

The faculty got wind of what was going on and asked Colonel R. W. Simpson, president of the trustees, to talk with the students. He persuaded the refractory students to defer action until the trustees hold a meeting, which is appointed early in June.

The outbreak at Clemson is the culmination of trouble which has been brewing the whole session, and is due to grave charges made against certain members of the faculty by nearly all of the student body.

HITCHCOCK, CARLING & CO.

MRS. W. L. BUTLER

Senior Sister and Guard of the O. R. C., Foote Division No. 48, Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. W. L. Butler.

THE woman who receives the real homage of the world is not the one whose beauty, diamonds and silks shine the brightest in ball rooms, but she whose wealth is bright eyes, a clear complexion, tireless energy, an affectionate nature and a sweet disposition. It is a woman whose health makes her fit for all the duties of life who is needed in the world today. Her personality is reflected by her well ordered home, her well trained and well cared for children. And she is often a blessing to her community by the interest she takes in the popular movements in charity, in the church and in other useful organizations. Paint and fine apparel may restore a semblance of health to the face scarred by suffering, but nothing but health itself can restore the comely wife, the energetic mother or the woman that makes herself felt in her community. Wine of Cardui is the medicine that is giving this kind of real health to suffering women today.

Mrs. W. L. Butler, who lives at No. 1628 Belleview Avenue, Kansas City, Mo., is a woman who was an invalid for years but now Wine of Cardui has restored her health and she is not only better able to care for her home and discharge her home duties, but she takes an active interest in her husband's work. She is the Senior Sister and Guard of Foote Division No. 48 of the Order of Railway Conductors. In this position she discharges her duties and is respected and esteemed by men and women alike. In telling of her cure by Wine of Cardui, she says:

"While Wine of Cardui is no doubt a good medicine for general weakness, I have found it the best I ever tried for female weakness. I suffered for several years with irregular and painful menstruation and was very much run down in strength and became thin. My sister advised me to throw away the doctors' medicines, claiming that they were only experimenting at best, and to take the remedy which had always stood the test—Wine of Cardui. She cheered me up and I started in using it with high hopes of perfect recovery. But the medicine did even better than I expected, for in less than six weeks I was cured and felt better than I had for years."

Menstrual suffering is liable to attack a woman at any time. A slight cold may bring it on and women should have on hand a bottle of Wine of Cardui, the medicine which cured Mrs. Butler so quickly and effectually. Wine of Cardui tones up the system and gives perfect health to the grandmother in her declining years; to the mother encompassed by the household duties, nearing the change of life, and to the maiden just entering womanhood with all its mystery and untried danger. We make this statement on the strength of 10,000 other letters besides Mrs. Butler's which are before us. Thousands of women have discarded experimenting doctors for the certain cure Wine of Cardui brings. If you are suffering and you take Wine of Cardui you need not fear that the pure Wine which has relieved over a million women is an experiment. This great remedy has long passed that stage. Mrs. Butler found that out when she began taking the Wine. Her "high hopes of perfect recovery" were more than realized, she says in her enthusiasm. In fact, no statement is too strong for her to use in praise of a medicine that so promptly relieved her from such suffering as a protracted case of painful menstruation brought. If you are in need of advice write to The Ladies' Advisory Department, The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. Describe your trouble as clearly as you can and a confidential response will be sent you by return mail. But relief is offered to you today. You should go to your druggist today if you are suffering and get a bottle of Wine of Cardui. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

Secretary Shaw on Secession.

Secretary Shaw has done the south a great service unless his right to be regarded as an authority is contested and denied. In his address at Pittsburg, on the birthday of General Grant, he declared that war was "the court of last resort" to which the question of the right of secession was appealed, and that the final decision against that right was not rendered until the surrender of Lee's army at Appomattox. Until then the United States of America had been properly considered a federation of sovereign states, and from the times of Jefferson had been spoken of in the plural number But since Appomattox Secretary Shaw insists that the United States "is," or, in other words, that the United States is now a consolidated nation and the right of secession can no longer be claimed by any one of the states.

It will be clearly seen that the secretary has enlightened history and, we hope, put an effectual gag in the mouths of those men who have for forty years past denounced the southern people as anarchists, traitors and rebels. For, if the secretary is right, the question of secession was an entirely open one until the court of last resort, with General Grant as chief justice, rendered its decision at Appomattox. Clearly, then, none of those who participated in the argument in favor of the right of a state, or any number of states, to retire from the union could be logically or legally denominated as traitors or rebels. They were defenders of one side of a mooted question of constitutional right that had been left open from the beginning of the government. This is the position which all of the leaders of the south assumed at the time, and which every true southern man has defended until now and will defend until the end of the world!

It is particularly gratifying to have this view so thoroughly corroborated by the distinguished statesman who has come out of the west to occupy one of the most exalted places in the cabinet of President Roosevelt. If, during their service in company, the secretary can succeed in inducing the president to also take this view of the war between the states and so modify his heretofore denunciation of Jefferson Davis and the confederate soldiers as "anarchists" and "rebels," there will be additional cause for congratulating the breezy and brilliant westerner who has such sane convictions and the courage to pronounce them in the open.

General Palma's Predicament.

It is considered significant that General Bartolome Maso has given his adhesion to the presidency of General Tomas Estrada Palma in Cuba. Maso was the candidate of the revolutionary element against Palma. He represents the ultra Cubans and is the strongest man in the ranks of the anti-American party on the island. That he was defeated for the presidency is attributed by him and his partisans to the influence of the American authorities in dictating the suffrage and supervising the presidential election.

Now he seems to accept the situation and with that keen sense of diplomatic art that the Cuban has contracted from Spanish models, he is playing to get on the inside, where he can see the wheels operate and know when the time is opportune to throw a scantling among the spokes. Already the programme in which Maso is a chief actor is obtruded before Palma in th eshape of a demand for $80,000,000 of direct, cash-on-the-nail pensions. That demand has been cherished in the breasts of the Maso-Roban-Rabi crowd since the hour of the Spanish surrender and some of the leaders have gone so far as to sound European money lenders on the terms of a bond issue for the purpose so soon as the Cuban government is operative.

Palma will have to face this issue and in it behold the crux of his peace and popularity as the first president of the republic. The Cuban soldier who thinks he fought, or dreams that he bled, for the freedom of his country is as anxious to graft onto the gratitude and treasure of the nation as the Grand Army of the Republic has ever been in this country. His argument is the same precisely as that which has prevailed to establish our own enormous pension system and that is yet powerful enough to compel a republican president to throw out an offensively honest pension commissioner, as H. Clay Evans, at the demand of the pension army and their attorneys.

The Cuban soldiery, so-called, belongs to the exploiting, reckless and dangerous population of the island. They mean to have money or blood. Maso will use all his consummate art as a politician and professional patriot to get the cash. But if Palma and his conservative followers are firm and refuse to bond the island for the next ten generations in order to fill the pockets of the soldiers to the tune of about $1,000 each, there is sure to be trouble.

Even if Palma, for the sake of peace and the success of his personal term as president, should yield to the pension party, the United States would veto the scheme. The Platt amendments restrain the Cuban government from contracting debts that the revenues of the island cannot care for, and this pension bond issue would be notoriously far beyond the capacity of the government to provide for the interest, to say nothing of a sinking fund to pay the principal at some time in the future.

It is bad for Palma that Maso and his crowd have become friendly. They are joining the dominant party with the idea of controlling it or wrecking it. But in either event the United States remain to be reckoned with, and any attempt to rob or revolutionize the island will lead to its prompt and forcible annexation.

That is what we expect to see happen before the first Cuban flag over Morro is wind-shredded!

"Shoot Him on the Spot!"

Comment in the press seems to be all one way respecting the declaration of Judge Tuthill, of Chicago, that it is the duty of a wife to shoot her husband when he beats her. It is agreed that if there is ever an occasion when the unwritten law of self-defense should be stretched to its widest limit it is when a human brute sets upon a woman and beats her because she is his wife and, he assumes, has, therefore, no defense against his assault.

Wife-beating has never been a common American offense. It has been rather uncommon, and in Delaware is yet so despised as to remain one of the offenses for which a man may be tied up to the public whipping-post and officially lashed. But of recent years our immigrant populations have introduced this European practice more to our notice and there is a growing sentiment in the higher circles of our American life in favor of its radical punishment and extermination.

Judge Tuthill is one of the ablest and most esteemed jurists in the west. He is no crank or sudden successor to the ermine. His reputation for learning, probity and judicial poise is second to none. And yet from the bench he has deliberately announced to all wives within his jurisdiction that it is their duty to shoot the husband who attempts to castigate his better half. And the general public applauds the advice.

We take it, however, that the laws of every community will in due time take proper care of the wife-beater. It will not be difficult to find ways to make that odious crime so despicable as that the most depraved wretch will hesitate to commit it. And we are not sure that Delaware is wrong in the treatment she gives it. The whipping-post is a dreaded punishment even to the most incorrigible thief and hardened brute. Few of them ever embrace "the malden" twice. They rather flee the spot where it is planted and shake from their feet with wild agility the dust of the state that makes it the handmaiden of justice.

America has borne always an enviable reputation as a land of chivalrous treatment for women. The doctrine that "he who lays his hand in anger on a woman is a dastard whom it were rank blasphemy to call a man" should not be permitted to fall into innocuous desuetude among us.

From New York to Paris by Rail.

As the Trans-Siberian railway system nears completion the project to open up an overland route between the eastern and western hemisphere wins fresh favor in the minds of level-headed people who formerly looked upon the idea as visionary and utopian.

We are not given to idle speculations, but we realize that we are living in an age of the world when wonders never cease to happen and we venture to predict that before the present century is half advanced we will be able to make an overland trip from New York to Paris without the necessity of changing cars along the route.

But the question arises, How can we manage to cross Bering straits without changing from the locomotive to the ferry boat? Simply by means of a tunnel; and since we have turned the corner of the century this project is by no means as visionary as it appeared to be some few years back. In fact, the problem is already solved, for the Pennsylvania railway system is now committed to the Herculean task of tunneling underneath the foundations of New York city across Manhattan island for the purpose of securing an outlet to the Atlantic ocean, and the scheme of tunneling underneath the waters of Bering strait is fraught with no greater difficulties. Business men are no longer ridiculing the idea of such an enterprise, but, in fact, are looking forward to it as one of the prospective achievements of the near future.

Developments on both sides of the water seem to be slowly but surely leading up to this desired consummation. At the Asiatic terminus of the Trans-Siberian railway system an important commercial town has already sprung up and within the next few years the Asiatic shore lines will be pulsing with new life. On the Alaskan borders similar activities are likewise manifest. Following the rich discoveries of gold in the Klondike region within the last few years the eyes of the world have been fastened upon the Alaskan territory and today the forces of civilization are gradually taking possession of the whole northwestern area of the continent. If the present drift continues it will not be long before Alaska is as densely populated as California; and plans are already maturing for constructing an immense trunk line from San Francisco to Dawson City. This system could easily be extended to the Alaskan shore line and put in communication with the Trans-Siberian railway system on the Asiatic shore line, and then matters could remain in statu quo until the time for constructing the tunnel underneath Bering straits. We are dealing with the subject seriously when we say that the time will come when the necessities of commerce in this part of the earth will demand the construction of the tunnel.

Of course, the Atlantic ocean will always furnish the most direct line of travel to Europe, but the opening up of the Trans-Siberian railway system will undoubtedly create new trade relations and produce important changes in the commerce of the globe, while tourists and sightseers will be constant patrons of the overland route, which will enable them to circumvent the bete noir of sea sickness and at the same time take in the wonderland of northern Asia.

As remote as the possibility may now seem, the twentieth century will most assuredly witness the establishment of an overland route between the two hemispheres, enabling us, without leaving our coaches, to make the trip from New York to Paris.

Presidential Reverie.

They're pelting me with "quibbles quick"
from angry north to south,
If I only tell a general when it's time to close his mouth;
They hurl the vials of their wrath—the anger of the Fates,
If I just suggest I know what's best for these United States!

They'll not accept my firm decrees with patience and with smiles;
They even grumble when I reined and muzzled mouthing Miles;
An' then I called down Funston, and they howled in high degree,
And to make my cup run over, now the
Bishop's after me!

It's one job in a million up here, from spring to fall,
To run the bloomin' country so's the run'll
please 'em all!
It's Oyster Bay and far away—or a trip across the sea;
For the trail is gettin' warmer, and the
Bishop's after me!

THEY BID ADIEU TO DIXIE

Ogden Party Is Now Speeding Toward New York.

VISIT IS PAID TO KNOXVILLE

The Tennesseeans Give Them the Last Evidences of Hospitality in the Southland.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 30.—Members of the Ogden party were royally entertained in Knoxville today and tonight. This was their last day in the south.

The Ogden special reached this city at 1:20 o'clock and was met by a large reception committee, headed by Dr. Charles W. Dabney, president of the University of Tennessee. The entire party was driven to points of interest, concluding their trip at the University of Tennessee. An exhibition drill by cadets entertained them for a brief time, then visits were made to various buildings on the campus. The formal exercises were held in Science hall, which was filled when the visitors arrived. "Nine raps" were given as the members of the party entered the hall. Dr. T. W. Jordan, dean of the university, welcomed the party on behalf of the faculty.

Hugh M. Tate, a senior, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the students and then Robert C. Ogden was introduced. The gentleman stated that he was at the head of a traveling university and had at his command distinguished educators and clergymen who were working for the common cause, education for the people. He begged to be excused from being called a philanthropist, for they are always cranks, he said. The hope that every American should hold, he said in conclusion, was that through his efforts the next generation might be better.

W. H. Baldwin, of New York, was the next speaker. His main theme was the east Tennessee mountaineer, who, he said, had been sadly neglected. He felt that aid must be extended them not in the way that the north desired, but in the south's way.

George Foster Peabody and Wallace Butterick were the other speakers of the afternoon.

Tonight a dinner was tendered the guests at the woman's building. Covers were laid for 130 and there were many ladies in the assemblage. Hon. Edward T. Sanford officiated as toastmaster.

Visitors who responded to toasts were Robert C. Ogden, John B. Brooks of Cambridge, Mass., and Dr. Felix Adler, of New York. All the toasts were expressive of the closest fraternal feelings between the north and south and of the duty owed the poor white people of this section along educational lines.

At 11 o'clock the visitors were escorted to their special train and departed for the east.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simpson, of Florence.

Eufaula, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Simpson, of Florence, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. L. Y. Dean, last night.

Scores of warm friends were present to extend congratulations and well wishes. The menu was served in courses. Many handsome and costly presents, among which was a golden cup bearing the inscription, "Their children shall rise up and call them blessed," attested the esteem of relatives and friends.

Mr. Simpson was a resident of this city for sixty-two years, and was one of its most prominent and influential citizens. He moved to Florence two years ago, where he now resides with his son, W. T. Simpson, Jr. His wife was Miss Mary Anna Daniel, of this city, and they were married in Tuskegee in 1852. The immediate family consists of five children—Mrs. L. Y. Dean, of this city; Mrs. J. W. Keesee, Clarksville, Tenn.; Dr. L. J. Simpson, Omaha, Ga.; William T. Simpson, Jr., Florence, and Mrs. E. K. Cargill, Columbus, Ga. Their grandchildren number twenty and they have four great-grandchildren.

But one adult death has occurred in the family during the past half century, that of a daughter, Mrs. Lula Fitzgerald. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are in good health and are remarkably well preserved. They are enjoying their declining years in peace and plenty and have promise of future anniversaries.

ODD FELLOWS' CELEBRATION.

Lodge in Tuscaloosa Sees Its Eighty-Third Birthday.

Tuscaloosa, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—The Tuscaloosa lodge No. 14, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, celebrated their eighty-third anniversary last evening at their quarters in the court house. This was perhaps one of the largest meetings this popular order has ever held here. There were representatives from ten odges present. The address of welcome to visitors was made by Noble Grand M. T. Ormond. The last degree was conferred on nine candidates. Special efforts will be made to have the grand lodge meet in Tuscaloosa next year and to have the Home for Widows and Orphans of Odd Fellows located here. C. H. Korner and I. Green will represent the lodge at Selma on the 14th, where the grand lodge meets. After the business was over a delightful banquet was enjoyed. M. T. Ormond was toast master, and splendid toasts were given by Rev. J. W. Cowan, Rev. W. B. White, J. W. Carson and others.

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers are arranging an attractive programme for their annual picnic, to be given at Scottsville on May 23. It will be given for the benefit of the Emergency hospital.

Last evening the Up-To-Date Club enjoyed one of the most delightful social sessions that they have ever had. They met at the home of Dr. James T. Searcy on the hospital lawn, and a most interesting programme was rendered by the best talent in Tuscaloosa. Dr. Searcy was the lecturer for the evening, and he made a decidedly pleasing address. He spoke on "Slavery, Insanity, Education and Races." Dainty refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

BIRMINGHAM FEARS A STRIKE.

Carpenters and Painters Make Demands of Contractors There.

Birmingham, Ala., April 30.—(Special.)—The carpenters and painters here claim 35 cents an hour and eight hours to constitute a day's work. The contractors have offered 25 cents an hour for nine hours, the unions to grade the carpenters. If this fails, they will give a flat scale of 30 cents an hour for eight hours.

The old scale of prices went out today. There is every indication of a disastrous strike, which will greatly retard the building boom now going on here.

Several of the contracting painters have signed the new scale, but a majority are holding out against it. It is estimated that 1,500 men will go out on the strike. This does not include Bessemer and other points in the district.

The new bonds bear no interest except as earned year by year, beginning with 1906. The rate is 3 per cent. These are income bonds with non-accumulated interest and can be called in and paid at any time. The contract made with the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance Company, which holds a primary obligation of $35,000, the bonds having been issued in 1892, reduces the rate of interest from 6 per cent to 5. Memphis, Tenn., April 30.—Admiral and Mrs. Schley rested until a late hour this morning and it was near 10 o'clock before breakfast had been completed and the guests were in readiness for the day's programme planned in their honor.

One of the features of the day was the presentation to Admiral Schley of a loving cup by the Commodore Perry chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. This was at 11 o'clock. There were a number of guests on hand long before the hour arranged for the reception to begin. The parlors were none too large to accommodate those who desired to grasp the hand of the admiral and his wife. The reception this morning was entirely informal.

At 2:30 o'clock Admiral Schley left the Gayoso hotel accompanied by a committee and was driven to the Masonic Temple. The admiral was introduced to the craft by Bun F. Price and there was a brief welcome spoken by Israel Peres, after which the secret work was taken up.

During the first regular meeting of the stockholders of the new Georgia Railway and Electric Company yesterday morning permanent directors and officers were elected. The meeting was held at 10 o'clock in the offices of the company, No. 24 East Alabama street.

The stockholders met first and elected the board of fifteen directors, who in turn met and elected officers. During the stockholders' meeting 1,243 shares of stock were represented in person, while 57,248 shares were represented by proxy.

Preston S. Arkwright, who since the consolidation of the companies has been temporary president, was elected president, while H. M. Atkinson was elected chairman of the board of directors.

The stockholders elected the following directors:

T. Jefferson Coolidge, Jr., who is chairman of the board of directors of the Old Colony Trust Company, of Boston; C. R. Spence, who is second vice president of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company, of Baltimore; H. M. Atkinson, J. L. Hopkins, A. W. Calhoun, W. P. Inman, R. D. Spalding, F. E. Block, E. P. Black, J. C. Hallman, A. E. Thornton, Anthony Murphy, R. F. Maddox, Thomas Egleston and P. S. Arkwright.

Officers Are Elected.

The board of directors then elected the following officers:

H. M. Atkinson, chairman board of directors; Preston S. Arkwright, president; G. W. Brine, vice president, also treasurer in charge of entire finances and accounting of whole company; D. A. Belden, vice president, and in charge as manager of railway department; J. G. Rossman, vice president, and in charge as manager electrical department; T. K. Glenn, vice president, also secretary and in charge as manager of legal department, including accidents, damages, claims, franchises and rights of way.

The following appointive officers were announced:

William Bloxham, chief engineer, in charge of both power stations H. N. Hurt, superintendent of transportation; S. Elmer Simmons, assistant superintendent of transportation; W. H. Glenn, superintendent of construction and roadways; R. H. Brown, special auditor.

Rosser & Brandon and Payne & Tyo will continue as counsel for the company.

Since the consolidation of the Atlanta Railway and Power Company, the Atlanta Rapid Transit Company and the Georgia Electric Light Company, P. S. Arkwright has been temporary president and S. J. Bradley temporary secretary and treasurer, while the temporary board of directors consisted of P. S. Arkwright, S. J. Bradley, F. M. Sisk, M. B. Lipscomb and R. E. Cullinane. The temporary officers and directors all resigned, their resignations being accepted at yesterday's meeting.

The four vice presidents of the new pany are not graded, each having the same authority with the others, although each will be an active officer, having been assigned to certain special duties in connection with the vice presidency. Although chairman of the board of directors, Mr. Atkinson has withdrawn from the active management of the company.

Ten Directors Present.

The following directors attended the meeting:

H. M. Atkinson, chairman; Dr. A. W. Calhoun, W. P. Inman, Dr. R. D. Spalding, E. P. Black, J. C. Hallman, Anthony Murphy, R. F. Maddox, Thomas Egleston and Preston S. Arkwright.

Mr. Arkwright, who has been made permanent president of the company, was Mr. Atkinson's right hand man during the recent street railway fight. He has been identified with the Atkinson interests here for years, and it was no surprise that he should be singled out to be the official head of the new company. Mr. Brine has been connected with the Georgia Electric Light Company for the past nine years. During that time he rose from a minor position to be secretary and treasurer of the company.

D. A. Belden, who has been the temporary president of the Atlanta Railway and Power Company since the plans for consolidation were announced, came here from Aurora, Ills., and is well versed in the management of street railways, having been connected with interests of that character in the north and west. Mr. Rossman, who became connected with the Georgia Electric Light Company about nine years ago, is a Greene county man, and graduated from the Technological school in 1892. He has also been connected with power plants in Baltimore and Seattle and was general superintendent of the Georgia Electric Light Company when the consolidation took place.

T. K. Glenn was for years one of the best known officers of the Atlanta Railway and Power Company, and his new duties are somewhat similar to those of the old company. Mr. Bloxham has been chief engineer of the Georgia Electric Light Company for a number of years and will occupy that position with the new company. Nym Hurt, the superintendent of transportation, was formerly superintendent of the Power company and is well known in Atlanta. He is related to Joel Hurt, who was at one time president of the Atlanta Railway and Power Company.

S. Elmer Simmons, the assistant superintendent of transportation, is a half brother of C. J. Simmons, formerly president of the Atlanta Rapid Transit Company. He was superintendent of that company for about three years, having grown up in the business. He was a motorman at one time. W. H. Glenn, superintendent of construction, is a graduate of the Technological school and was connected with the Power company for a long time as superintendent of construction.

The consolidated company now employs between 1,200 and 1,500 men.

THREE SQUARE MILES AND 10,000 PEOPLE TO BE ADDED

Circle Indicates the Present City Limits. Dotted Lines Show the Territory That Will Probably Be Added To Make Greater Atlanta.

THE above map is the first to be prepared of Greater Atlanta, as it will soon look. The solid lines indicate the present city limits and the dotted lines indicate the desired territory that the subcommittee on city extension will report back to the charter revision committee. The subcommittee will meet this morning at 10 o'clock and it is highly probable that their report to the general committee will be in accord with the above map. The territory as outlined in the above map is the same as was passed over by the special committee and described in The Constitution yesterday morning. It will be noticed that the new boundary does entirely away with the circular boundary except on the south side, where the belt railroad will probably be used as the limits. This one point is the only matter over which the committee is not perfectly agreed. Some seem to favor the present limits on the south side, while others favor making the belt line the limits. The idea seems to be, however, that the belt line will be used instead of the old limits. The subcommittee will have the present map before it at its meeting this morning and those who are familiar with the subject believe that it will be adopted as the new limits with little or no change. The new territory to be taken in as indicated by the above map will add about three square miles in territory to the city and give it an additional population of between ten and twelve thousand people.

SHORT ITEMS CONCERNING MEN AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

ALLAN J. FERRES, OF NEW YORK, representing the plate glass department of the Fidelity and Casualty company, and Special Agent Gladstone, of New York, who represents the same company, are in Atlanta, visiting Resident Manager Eugene Oberdorfer.

THE OFFICERS OF THE FIFTH regiment will hold a smoker at the armery of the Atlanta Grays, corner of Garnett and South Pryor streeets, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. After the smoker an officers' meeting will be held at which several problems concerning the welfare of the regiment will be discussed. It is quite probable that the question of going into camp during the coming summer will be one of the interesting topics by the officers. Captain E. E. Pomeroy, of the Alantta Grays, has charge of the arrangements for the smoker.

MERCER AND THE TECH WILL meet at Brisbine park Saturday for a second game, instead of at Macon, as was thought at first. The Mercer boys proved an easy mark for the Techs in the first game, but since that time they have been hard at work and promise to give the blacksmiths a hard fight.

SAM SINGLETON, THE NEGRO JANitor who served at engine house No. 1 for many years, was buried in Marietta Tuesday. The members of the department made up a purse to pay his funeral expenses and provided a handsome casket. A first-class hearse and four carriages were procured at Marietta. Chief Joyner and family went up to attend the funeral.

THE MEMBERS OF THE FIRE DEpartment will don their spring uniforms Sunday. The uniforms will be similar to those now worn in every particular except that they will be lighter weight. They were made by Lynch, who has been the department's outfitter for seventeen years.

THE CHAMBERLIN-JOHNSON-DUBose Company yesterday sent to the Firemen's Benevolent Association a check for $50 in recognition of the gallant services of the members of the department at the fire which occurred in their building about two weeks ago.

THE MEMBERS OF THE FIRE DEpartment have planted a small flower garden in the small vacant triangle opposite engine house No. 1. It will be known as the Little Grant park.

MRS. EMMA TAYLOR DIED LAST night at her residence, 126 Luckie street. Death ensued after an illness of two weeks. Mrs. Taylor was the wife of Alexander Taylor, the well-known Marietta street dry goods merchant. The deceased is survived, besides her husband, by six children. Mrs. Taylor had hosts of friends, who will learn with regret of her death and who offer to the bereaved relatives their deepest sympathy. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

HESTER E. HANNAH, 3 MONTHS OF age, died yesterday morning at the residence of her parents, 343 Luckie street. The body will be taken to Centerville, Ga., today for interment.

MISS ELLEN DOWMAN, DAUGHTER of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dowman, of Atlanta, died Tuesday afternoon in Macon. She was on a visit to her brother, J. W. Dowman. The deceased was a sister of President C. E. Dowman, of Emory college. Mr. Dowman, the father, is connected with the Charles Dowman Manufacturing Company. The deceased had large numbers of friends, who will extend to the bereaved relatives their sympathy. The body was brought to this city and funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Epworth church, in Edgewood. The interment was at Decatur. The following acted as pallbearers: Colonel C. W. Smith, C. H. Ashford, Dr. H. M. Smith, J. G. Foote, W. K. Dennis, John M. Miller.

BIDS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION OF St. Mark Methodist church were scheduled to be opened yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, but at that hour no bids had been received. Six contractors are figuring on the work and they requested a few days' more time in which to submit bids. Chairman W. L. Peel, of the building committee, hopes to have the bids in by the latter part of the week. As soon as possible after the contract is let the work of building will begin. The church is to be located at the corner of Peachtree and West Fifth streets.

THE TRIAL OF THE CASE OF MISS Mary Allen against the city, which has been in progress before Judge A. E. Calhoun in the second division of the city court since Tuesday morning, will probably be concluded today. The hearing of evidence was finished yesterday and argument of counsel will begin this morning. Miss Allen is suing for $2,000 for alleged personal injuries. She claims that in April, 1900, she fell by a defect in a sidewalk on Kennedy street and received permanent injuries. The plaintiff is represented by Attorney Ulysses Lewis. The defendant is represented by City Attorney J. L. Mayson and Assistant City Attorney W. P. Hill.

JUDGE G. H. TANNER, AS EXECUtor, yesterday filed in the office of the ordinary an inventory and appraisement of the will of the late Mrs. Amanda E. Tanner. The appraisement shows the realty and personalty composing the estate to be valued at $13,854.02. The appraisement was made by Attorney W. J. Spears and others. The will of Mrs. Tanner was recently probated and under its terms Judge Tanner qualified as executor.

REV. SAM SMALL WILL PREACH at the Wallace church, at the request of Dr. Cleveland, this evening, at 7:45 o'clock. The meetings in progress at the church, on West Fair streets, are very full of fervor and interest. The meeting tonight will be, it is expected, one of more than ordinary significance, and the public is cordially invited to be present.

THE TRADING STAMP BUSINESS IN ATLANTA.

Trading stamps are fast becoming the most popular and profitable inducements to secure business, more so than any other system, due in a great degree to the fact that the stamps cost the customer nothing, and at the same time are worth a great deal, as they can be used as an equivalent for money in buying many valuable articles for the home; and if you get the Hayes & Wellborn trading stamps, the latest out, you can use them in buying almost everything in the dry goods line, such as dress goods, laces, trimmings, silks, etc. The Piedmont Grocery Co., at 88, Whitehall, are giving the Hayes & Wellborn trading stamps, and, to make it interesting, they will give 30 stamps with every dollar's worth of goods bought at their store from day to day until May 15; and, to make it still more interesting, they will give 25 stamps free with every new book that is furnished to a customer.

This firm will pay cash for all kinds of trading stamps, so that if you do not want any article furnished by the stamp people, you can take the cash and buy what you want.

The "Piedmont" will do what they say they will do. Same old Georgia cane at 40c per gallon. Call C. H. Burge, phones 485.

JACOBS WINS HIS INJUNCTION SUIT

Supreme Court Holds Combinations Restraining Trade Are Void.

DECISION IS FAR REACHING

Court Declares Anti-Trust Law of 1896 Is Unconstitutional, but Combinations in Restraint of Trade Are Against Public Policy.

The supreme court decided yesterday in the famous Jacobs' Pharmacy Company against Brown & Allen and others case, that a combination of dealers formed to compel another dealer to sell goods at a scale of prices fixed by it is contrary to public policy and void, and that the members of such a combination may be restrained by injunction from carrying such purpose into effect.

Another important feature of the decision is that the court declares the anti-trust law approved December 23, 1896, is unconstitutional because it exempts agricultural products and live stock, and is, therefore, repugnant to the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, which declares that "No state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

An interesting feature of this case, the decision in which will prove an important and far reaching one, is that the act under which the suit was brought is declared unconstitutional, and at the same time the court's decision on the main point at issue is in the plaintiff's favor.

The decision is based entirely on common law, and is grounded on public policy. It means, in effect, that trusts or combinations in restraint of trade may be proceeded against in the courts and injunctions sought to prevent the carrying out of such purposes as are commonly involved in such combinations.

The supreme court paid quite a compliment to Judge J. H. Lumpkin in deciding this case, in that it adopted his decision almost in its entirety as its opinion.

The suit was brought almost a year ago by the Jacobs' Pharmacy Company to secure an injunction against those composing the Atlanta Druggists' Association which, it was claimed, had written to large drug supply houses in the north stating that the Jacobs' Pharmacy Company was cutting rates, and that they would withdraw their patronage if these supply companies continued to sell Jacobs. Jacobs brought suit for $50,000 damages, and for injunction to prevent the combination of druggists from restraining his trade by this or any other acts, claiming that a conspiracy had been formed against him.

The Court's Opinion.

Judge Lumpkin overruled the demurrer to the petition for injunction filed by the defendants, and the case was taken at once to the supreme court. The headnotes of the supreme court's decision are concise and clear, and give the full purport of the court's views. They are as follows:

"537. Brown & Allen et al v. Jacobs' Pharmacy Company. Injunction. Before Judge Lumpkin. Fulton superior court.

"Fish, J.—1. A combination of mercantile dealers to compel another dealer in similar goods to sell at prices fixed by it, or, upon his refusal so to do, to prevent those of whom its members are purchasing customers from selling goods to him, is, upon general legal principles, contrary to public policy and void; and the members of such a combination may, collectively or individually, be by appropriate injunction restrained from carrying into effect such purpose as that indicated above.

"2. The act approved December 23, 1896 (Acts 1896, p. 68), commonly known as the 'anti-trust act,' is unconstitutional; as section 4 thereof, declaring that the provision of the act 'shall not apply to agricultural products or live stock while in the posisession of the producer or raiser,' makes the act repugnant to that provision of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States which declares that 'No state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws.'

"3. There was no error in granting the injunction prayed for, save only as to one of the defendants; and the judgment excepted to being as to all the others correct, it will be affirmed, with appropriate direction.

"Judgment affirmed, with direction.

"King & Spalding and Smith, Hammond and Smith, for plaintiffs in error.

"H. Douglass, Hopkins & Sons, Arnold & Arnold, Rosser & Carter and D. A. Loyless, contra.

YOUR BLOOD IN MAY MUST PRODUCE TRUE VITALITY OR DISEASE.

Paine's Celery Compound

Expels All Winter Impurities and Poisons from the Blood and Builds Up the Entire System.

AN ASTONISHING PROOF OF BLOOD CLEANSING AND RESTORATION OF COMPLETE HEALTH.

True health can only be maintained by keeping the body free of acid and sluggish blood and morbid waste matters. The blood that is pumped through the heart to all parts of the body carries nourishment and health, or poison and the seeds of death.

Close confinement in badly ventilated offices, stores and workshops during the winter months has lowered the vitality of tens of thousands. Poisons and impurities have been implanted in the blood; these agents of death must be expelled if health would be maintained during the coming summer.

The month of May should be renovating and building-up time with the vast army of weak, debilitated and broken down men, women and young people.

If the work of purifying and vitalizing the blood be longer deferred, eruptions, blotches, sores, eczema, scrofula, erysipelas and other dangers are sure to be your portion.

Paine's Celery Compound meets successfully at this season all unhealthy conditions of the blood. It is the only medicine that can guarantee perfect purification of the vital fluid; that can give true nutriment to the nerves and tissues; that can bestow new life, vigor and strength for the enjoyment of summer and the prosecution of life's duties.

Mr. George Schmidt, 20 West Third st., Cincinnati, Ohio, briefly and forcibly writes regarding his rescue from a slow but sure death. He says:

"Since infancy I have been bothered with impure blood and nervousness. I tried almost all known remedies and went to many physicians, but nothing seemed to do me any good until a druggist recommended Paine's Celery Compound. I used this great medicine, and before I had finished two bottles I found relief. I am now using my sixth bottle and never felt better in my life. My nervousness is all gone and my skin clearer than ever it was."

Our Store

We are continually being complimented upon the the size, arrangement and beauty of our new store.

To the many people who have not visited us in our new building we extend them a cordial invitation to do so at their earliest convenience.

There are many reasons why such a visit will interest and well repay you.

This store is the largest establishment in the United States devoted solely to clothing men and boys—6 large floors and base ment, aggregating in floor space more than one and one quarter acres.

In arrangement and fittings it is far superior to any other. It is lighted by day through large windows, front and back, and by immense sky lights, with a very large and beautiful arcade in the center. Every portion of the store is well lighted by daylight, so that goods may be thoroughly examined while purchasing.

At night it is illuminated by more than 2,000 electric lights and presents a very brilliant interior.

The store is fitted with pneumatic cash conveyors, which run under the floors and do away with the unsightliness of the wire systems and cash boys running over the store.

It is absolutely the coolest store in Atlanta as we have installed a perfect cooling plant, so that on the hottest summer day the air will be cool and fresh inside our store, 20 degrees cooler than outside.

These are a few of the many reasons why you should come here. The most important reason to the savingly inclined is that we sell Clothing, Shoes, Hats, Furnishings, Suit Cases, Bags, etc., of the highest quality at a less price than others charge.

A Brilliant Wedding.

THE wedding of Miss Irene Hirsch, the beautiful young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hirsch, and Mr. Edwin Frank, of Savannah, took place last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the temple, Rabbi Marx officiating. A brilliant assemblage of Atlanta's representative people witnessed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception of elaborate detail given at the Kimball house.

The attendants included, maid of honor, Miss Grace Hirsch; matron of honor, Mrs. Monroe S. Bickart; bridesmaids, Misses Viola and Irene Frank and Miss Binswanger, of Savannah; Miss Sara Jacobus, Miss Selma Eiseman, Miss Edith Rosenbaum, Miss Carrie Bickart; best man, Mr. Hugo Frank, of Savannah; groomsmen, Mr. Carl Dube, Mr. Carl Herman, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Adolph Soudheimer, Mr. Fantle, of Savannah; Mr. Walter Rich and Mr. Alex Speir; ushers, Mr. Hugo Spitz, Mr. David Fleischel, Mr. Edwin Haas, Mr. Jake Hirsch, Mr. Monroe L. Bickart and Mr. B. Ehrlich.

The bride wore a superb toilet of white satin duchesse, the skirt made en train, opened in front over an accordeon plaited panel of chiffon embroidered in pearls and was finished with deep circular flounces of chiffon. The corsage had a shield front of rose point lace, the medallions outlined with pearls. The sleeves were similarly fashioned in rose point and pearls. The bridal veil was adjusted with lilies of the valley and pins of pearls and diamonds, and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley tied with streamers of tulle. The bridesmaids' gowns were of white air line cloth, fashioned with tucks and elaborately applied in lace. They wore pink reinfures and carried shower bouquets of pink roses. The maid of honor wore pure white and carried white roses, and the matron of honor wore a princesse gown of Irish point lace and white Louisinne silk.

At the Kimball house, where the reception and bridal dinner was served in the bridal suite, there were superb decorations which included palms, ferns and a wilderness of cut flowers in white and pink. The bonbons were in those colors and every appointment of the elaborate repast. Music added to the brilliancy of the occasion, and the wedding was one of the handsomest ever witnessed in Atlanta.

Miss Hirsch is a notably beautiful young woman, as bright and accomplished and lovable as she is beautiful and her departure from Atlanta will deprive the social world of the city of one of its most popular members.

Mr. Frank is one of the most prominent and successful young business men in Savannah, and he will take his bride there to charm a home and a large circle of friends.

Among the visiting guests at the wedding were:

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fust and Miss Fust, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and Miss Smith, Miss Irene Frank, Miss Viola Frank, Mr. Hugo Frank, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Well, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Well, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Fust, Mr. and Mrs. Hest, Mr. Sigfried Lewberger, Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Fantle, Mr. Carl Herman, Mr. J. Dube, Mr. Adolph Soudheimer, Mr. B. Ehrlich, Mr. Herman Myers, mayor of Savannah; Chief Owen Riley, of the police department, and Chief Stark, of the detective department; Miss Janette Herman, Miss Helen Binswanger, all of Savannah, and Mrs. David Stern and Mrs. Janette Baum, of New York.

Scott-Shepherd.

A BEAUTIFUL home wedding was that of Miss Annie May Scott and Dr. E. C. Shepherd, which took place yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Scott.

Dr. W. W. Landrum performed the impressive ceremony, which was witnessed by a large assemblage of relations and friends. At the conclusion of the ceremony there was an informal reception, and a delicious luncheon served. The decorations throughout the house were an artistic combination of palms, ferns and potted plants, while cut flowers in white and pink adorned the mantels and cabinets. The table had its decorations of white and green, and music added to the pleasure of the guests.

The bride was lovely in a toilet of white silk trimmed in lace; her veil was adjusted with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

She is a bright and accomplished young woman with a host of friends who admire her for her many womanly traits of character. Dr. Shepherd is one of the city's most successful young physicians.

Dr. and Mrs. Shepherd left last evening for an extended visit north.

Wood-Stoney.

Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at St. Luke Episcopal church occurred the marriage of Miss Nellie Wood and Mr. John C. Stoney. The bride entered with her brother, Mr. Edward P. Wood, preceded by the ushers, Mr. John M. DeSaussure and Mr. Henry W. Davis, the groom coming from the vestry room with his best man, Mr. C. L. Stoney.

The bride was attired in a going-away costume of castor, and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

The bride's father, Mr. Albert A. Wood, gave her away, the ceremony being performed by the Rev Mr. Wilmer. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Stoney left on the vestibule for Columbia and Camden, S. C., to visit relatives of the groom.

Wofford-Brown.

At 7 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's parents, 96 Jones avenue, occurred the marriage of Miss Battie Eula Brown and Mr. Jacob Lewis Wofford. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. J. # FEDERATION MAY NOT FACE QUESTION OF COLOR LINE

By Sarah J. Hagan.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 30, 1902.—(Special.)—This city of California's southland, remarkable to say, is noted as the negroes' paradise, therefore it is the thing to see courtesies extended to the colored element here, who have the best seats at public amusements and elsewhere the same as their white brethren.

Now that the Federation of Women is on the eve of its first session every one is on the qui vive and lobbying, button-holing and wire-pulling and the like are in order.

It is prophesied that the color question will be laid on the table and left for the members of the organization to solve two years hence.

Antipathy to the negro stands pronounced, but no one is committal. The New England delegation, it is alleged, came with flaring trumpets, with intentions to win an entry for the negro into this grand orgabization, but after careful investigation I learn they are resorting to diplomacy, which means a complete withdrawal, leaving the colored sister to the mercy of the anti-element. The west is solid in sympathy with the south, many other states sympathizing.

Mrs. Lowe, the keystone of this array of brilliancy, is being patronized by the master minds of literature, art and science.

This morning at 10:30 o'clock Mrs. Rebecca D. Lowe, president of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, will preside over the first session of the sixth biennial of woman's clubs.

Three thousand delegates will be present, representing American, English, Australian, German, French, and Japanese clubs, and the biennial will be an occasion remarkable in the history of women's organizations.

with a host of friends and admirers all over the state.

Mr. Ezell is a prominent young business man of Eatonton with a bright, prosperous future before him. The large circle of friends of the contracting parties look forward to the consummation of their marriage with deep interest.

Spencer-Price.

Louisville, April 30.—Henry B. Spencer, of St. Louis, and Miss Katherine Price, of Louisville, were married this afternoon at the Second Presbyterian church in this city. Mr. Spencer is a son of Samuel Spencer, president of the Southern railway and is general manager of the St. Louis-Louisville lines of the Southern.

Coleman-Sims.

Washington, Ga., April 30.—(Special.)—Never before in the social annals of Washington has there occurred a more brilliant or beautiful wedding than that of Miss Sarah Isabel Sims to Mr. John L. Coleman, of Atlanta, which was solemnized today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Sims.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. S. McAllister.

As the notes of the wedding march sounded, the bridal party advanced down the stairway. First came the ribbon-bearers, Misses May and Clifford Sims, in airy toilets of white chiffon, with pink sashes. Next came Lemmie Sims, of Atlanta, the dainty little flower girl, in a pretty frock of white mull, with pink ribbons, and carrying roses. The pretty birdesmaids were Miss Annie Laurie Hill, of Atlanta; Miss Mary Wood Hill, Miss Lucy Sims, Miss Will Matt Sims, of Atlanta, and Miss Eugenia Anthony. Each wore lovely gowns of white chiffon, fashioned over taffeta, with sashes of pink, and carrying pink roses. The broomsmen were Mr. J. W. Austin, of Atlanta; Mr. James Smith, of Atlanta; Mr. John Allen, of Atlanta; Mr. Joseph Terry and Mr. Edward Markwalter. Miss Bessie Sims, of Montezuma, the maid of honor, was a picture of girlish loveliness in an exquisite gown of chiffon over taffeta, elaborately garnitured with lace and ribbon, and she carried an armful of pink roses. The groom, with his best man, Dr. Edward Tigner, of Milledgeville, was met by the bride, who never appeared lovelier than in her exquisite bridal robe of white silk. She carried brides roses.

After the ceremony an elaborate luncheon was served.

At a late hour the bridal gown was changed for a tailor gown of tan broadcloth, with stylish hat to match, after which Mr. and Mrs. Coleman left for New York and other eastern cities. Upon their return they will be at home in Atlanta.

Mrs. W. L. Marshall will be the guest of honor this afternoon at a beautiful reception to be given by Mrs. George P. Howard and Mrs. Preston Arkwright. Assisting the two popular hostesses and their charming guest of honor in receiving will be Mrs. Robert Maddox, Mrs. T. R. R. Cobb, Mrs. Will Kiser, Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Julian Field, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Mrs. Will Ellis, Jr., Miss Julia Hammond, Miss Julia Rankin, Miss Hattie Warren, Mrs. Charles Hopkins, Mrs. Burton Smith, Mrs. Harry Atkinson, Mrs. James Gilbert, Mrs. Howard Palmer, Mrs. J. # COTTON WORKED UP IN THE AFTERNOON

Due to Light Estimate for Receipts at New Orleans.

TRADE WAS LESS ACTIVE

Wheat Closed Higher—Corn, Oats and Provisions Lower—In the Stock Market International Power Was the Sensation.

New York, April 30.—The cotton market opened firm, with prices 3 to 11 points higher, this being a fair response to bullish Liverpool cables and to firm advices from southern spot markets. Nevertheless, the opening proved to be top for the day. Liquidation and bear pressure sent the whole list off sharply after the call and the subsequent reaction did not fully rally the market. Trading was less active than during the earlier part of the week, and for the most part comprised professional interchanges. There was no doubting that the room was bearish and this feeling had a tendency to make timid longs sell out in the hope of repurchasing at a lower level. Liverpool eased off sharply upon finding our market heavy, but New Orleans ruled firm throughout the session, at no time declining as much as either New York or Liverpool. A large estimate for tomorrow's New Orleans and Galveston receipts, combined with generally favorable crop and weather reports for the time being, checked active investment support. In the early afternoon a light estimate for New Orleans receipts tomorrow frightened the shorts and for the rest of the day the market worked slowly upward. A prominent export house was a large buyer of July and a former Wall street bull leader appeared to be buying August freely. The close was steady, with prices net 2 to 7 points higher. Total sales were estimated at 200,000 bales.

Review of New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, April 30.—Spot cotton firm; sales 3,800 bales, including 1,500 to arrive. Prices advanced 1-16c on all grades, below middling fair, carrying middling to 9¾.

Futures opened in a decidedly bullish mood and the first figures showed advances of from 6 to 8 points in the active months. July went to 9.58, a gain of 10 points, and here the market stood still. Realizing sales caused a sag from the top, and before the noon hour the reaction had wiped out all gains and the market was about Tuesday's level. The bullish contingent then came forward and the entire list soon moved up to the opening level, the board at the close showing net gains on the summer months of 7 to 8 points and 3 to 4 on the other positions.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, April 30.—Business continued quiet today in the dry goods market. Only goods to cover immediate necessities are being taken. The market, however, showed no lack of firmness, and prices on the whole were maintained.

Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, April 30.—The cotton trade this morning was surprised by a much better Liverpool port than had been looked for; in fact, some months were up as much as 3½ points. This, combined with less satisfactory state reports, produced a better feeling in the early market, when prices rose 5 to 11 points, bulls again being disposed to take the aggressive, but buying orders quickly petering out succeeded by reats that in the absence of new support and the recent narrowing of the short interest it might be difficult to rapidly send prices up at this time unless big buying orders from unexpected quarters should set in. Receipts at the ports were estimated at 12,-000, against 9,000 last year. Business fell off to small proportions as prices gave way, and little interest was displayed. A heavy Houston estimate for tomorrow unsettled bull confidence to some extent. The weekly bureau report by states shows a less favorable condition than was estimated by yesterday's summary, which lacked nothing in completeness. West Texas wants rain and there has been also a deficiency in the states of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Arkansas. In Texas the report says rain is urgently needed, and in some counties of Georgia there has been no rain. In the cotton belt today there was rain at Montgomery, Atlanta, Memphis, Oklahoma and a trace at Fort Smith, Palestine and Little Rock. Highest temperature 76 at Corpus Christi, and lowest 60, at Chattanooga. Forecast for Texas and the gulf states tomorrow generally showers and elsewhere fair weather.

Remarks—All sections of the belt were visited by showers during the past 24 hours; these were heaviest in the Charleston, Memphis, Oklahoma and Wilmington districts, while in Galveston and New Orleans districts the average rainfall amounts were inappreciable. Very little change occurred in the temperature, which continues seasonable in practically all districts, with maxima of 90 degrees and over in the extreme west.

H. & B. Beer's Cotton Letter.

New York, April 30.—Liverpool advices were more favorable than expected, in consequence of large continental buying due to the strength of southern markets. Our market in sympathy opened 9 to 10 points higher, declined 8 to 9 points later on realizing, but subsequently reacted on the light New Orleans estimate and the firmness of spots, closing 6 to 8 points higher on old crop months and 4 to 8 on new. The semi-weekly interior statement shows that the receipts were 16,000, against 25,000 last year and the loss in stock was 12,000 this year, against 7,000 last year. Sentiment continues very bullish and buyers are in evidence on all breaks. Higher values are expected by the majority of operators, and as long as purchasers of spots are willing to pay present prices the market will rule firm. We advise buying only new crop months on weak periods, owing to the heavy discounts.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, April 30.—The sudden and unexpected advance in Liverpool was due to continental and Egyptian buying, together with the closing of a quantity of cotton sold to English spinners. The new system they have of fixing the price they shall pay for cotton they have taken. This advance met a large amount of realizing orders in both markets under which the advance was lost in Liverpool and ours quickly declined below the closing quotations. New crop deliveries have been strong all day, the summary of the weekly crop report not reading at all like the summary published yesterday. After the posting of the New Orleans estimate for tomorrow the market recovered the greater portion of the advance on local covering. Liverpool is expected to be higher again tomorrow. Old time bulls were the largest sellers during the morning. The market has become more of a public one than for some time.

O'Dell & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, April 30.—Cotton futures in the local market opened steady with first prices advanced 3 to 8 points. This was a bare response to astonishingly bullish cables from Liverpool. Nevertheless, local sentiment seemed bearishly inclined and shorts covered in the opening, selling for erstwhile longs, preparing for another break as occurred yesterday. Pressure of a hard kind was brought to bear and prices yielded point after point. At the lower prices for July and August cotton, some support developed in the shape of buying for room traders, who appeared to be operating only for a turn, however. Many thougnt liquidation had not run its full course. The tone mixed at the close. Europe and the south buyers early, but dropped later, only to go a little long in the later hour. Favorable crop news from every quarter had more or less influence. Port receipts were extensive, and liberal estimates for tomorrow's receipts at Houston did much to shake bull confidence. Trade was active with spinners buying May and July. Spots continued strong. Record prices for season abroad and this made domestic holders all the more stubborn, since there was a good demand for export account. The feeling at the close was rather mixed, while many conservative interests are inclined to go cautiously. Not many cared to go on record as predicting anything positive, and this alone was sufficient to reflect extreme uncertainty on both sides of the account.

THE DAY IN WALL STREET.

New York, April 30.—A nervous and feverish tone developed in today's stock market, principally as the result of the extraordinary movement in International Power, with several contributory causes, including a stiffening in the money rate, the uncertainty incident to preparations for May disbursements, the outcome of the anthracite labor conference, and renewed reports of the need of rain in the southwest. International Power opened at 197, a decline of a point from yesterday's close. It recovered and then simuped by successive stages from 1 to 3 points to 163. It then rallied 20 points, jumping as much as 5 points between sales and fell back again to 162. Apparently no bids could then be secured for the stock and it was neglected for an hour, until just before the close, when a sale was effected at 220. The day's net decline was 78 points. Yesterday the stock sold at 199, which was the record price. For many days previous successive records had been established. In February the stock sold at 66, and in March the present movement started below 90. It has been accompanied of late by many buildings of large acquirements of new properties by the company, and by the payment of a 2½ per cent dividend, which was called quarterly, after providing for the preferred stock requirements. The character of the movement has been viewed with scepticism for some time, and has attracted very little outside following. Within a day or two profits of many points have been taken on a few light holdings. The officers of the company could give no intelligible explanation of today's happenings beyond the obvious fact that supporting orders had been withdrawn. The closing quotations for the stock was 75 bid and 150 asked. This movement necessarily had some sentimental influence on the rest of the market, which naturally was most pronounced in Industrial specialties, especially in those regarding which little definite information is known. The declines running from 2 to 5½ points in the American Locomotive stocks, Railway Steel Spring, American Grass Twine and Colorado Fuel may be cited as examples. The higher grade Industrials were not so much affected, although the United States Steel stocks continued heavy. Amalgamated and Sugar were higher, the latter rising 2 points at one time. Spirited buying of Chicago Great Western, a rise of over 4 points in Illinois Central and over 2 points each in St. Paul and Rock Island had a sustaining influence in the railroad list for a time, but prices gave way there in the unsettled state that developed. The effects of attempts to market stocks which were previously manipulated was seen in the 6 point drop in Northwestern, 13 in Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and Omaha preferred, and 5¼ in Keokuk and Des Moines. There can be no doubt that yesterday's action by the clearing house authorities—that institutions hereafter admitted to its privileges must maintain cash reserves commensurate with those required of members themselves—was an admonition against the rate of credit expansion and the character of some of the promotions which have been furthered by some of the trust companies. There was some calling of loans following the flurry for cash stocks.

The total sales of stocks today were 1,057,-000 shares, including Atchison 34,400; Canadian Pacific 10,100; Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville 7,900; Chicago and Great Western 71,300; Delaware and Hudson 5,300; Erie 9,-200; Illinois Central 55,200; Manhattan 16,-700; Missouri Pacific 30,600; Ontario and Western 8,300; Pennsylvania 34,100; Reading 48,300; do. second preferred 3,200; St. Paul 152,700; Southern Pacific 12,000; Southern Railway 14,500; Union Pacific 32,600; Wabash 13,500; do. preferred 21,500; Wisconsin Central 13,100; Coper 15,800; American Linseed Oil 5,100; Brooklyn 14,100; Colorado Fuel and Iron 41,500; Consolidated Gas 7,100; International Power 17,800; National Lead 11,000; Sugar 13,200; Tennessee Coal and Iron 7,200; United States Leather 14,500; United States Steel 13,300; do. preferred 14,100; American Locomotive 65,500; do. preferred 11,400.

Commercial Advertiser's Financial Cable.

New York, April 30.—The Commercial Advertiser's financial cablegram says: There was a scanty business on the stock exchange today before the holiday, but the tone was confident on rumors that Generals Botha and De-larey were more pacific in their attitude. The market is wagering 2 to 1 on peace before next Tuesday. Consols spurted from 94⅝ to 95. Kaffirs were quietly buoyant, and Americans were idle and drooping on the absence of support except specialties. In the street St. Paul and Illinois Central jumped on New York's buying orders in a narrow market. Atchison was sold and Canadian Pacific was heavy on considerable selling again today.

Money rates were unchanged and the market is still borrowing gold to the amount of £5,000 which has been received from the continent.

O'Dell & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, April 30.—The stock market opened firm and higher, though from the very beginning spotty conditions were evident and the trade less generously distributed than on previous days. St. Paul was a strong feature during the morning and the Pacific stocks were well taken, while Great Western and certain other low priced stocks took on a spurt in connection with reports of change in control. St. Paul rose on reports of big earnings and the statement that both classes of stocks are earning over 12 per cent a year, the company in addition having a surplus of over $30,000,-000. This caused sympathetic advances elsewhere in the list and many former buyers of Northwestern and other shares of this class sold out and bought St. Paul. The specialties were the subject of much difference of opinion and the fluctuations in Copper, Sugar, Leather, Cotton Oil, Colorado Fuel and Iron and Steel stocks were rather erratic but interesting. The coolers were the subject of moderate pressure from time to time, following conflicting arguments with reference to the anthracite labor situation, which seemed to be uncertain. More concern is felt regarding the money situation and the coming bank statement by reason of the decision to make the trust companies furnish weekly statements as to their condition. This will result in a better averaged report, and one which will more truly represent actual conditions. London for Americans was firm with unimportant changes, though they took 10,000 shares of various internationals. Late the market showed weakness. Some support developed against bear pressure from time to time, but on the whole offerings of many stocks were begging, there was little definite news, though conflicting talk regarding the anthracite labor decision and prospects of a strike. The market was spotty to the last with professionals mostly in control. Outside markets dull save for a 20 point rise in price of Standard Oil. Bonds firm with money showing firmness.

The Treasury Statement.

Washington, April 30.—Today's treasury balances, exclusive of the gold reserve, show: Available cash balance $184,668,692; gold $91,862,517.

Coffee and Sugar.

New York, April 30.—The coffee market opened steady with prices 5 to 10 points higher following better European market news than expected. The bull leaders were vigorous buyers at the higher prices, as were commission houses and Wall street. Importers followed their usual policy of selling. A rather bullish crop estimate from Santos—4,-500,000 bags for the new crop—helped to strengthen the market, which at one time was net 10 to 15 points higher. Realizing near the close and a setback of ¼ franc in Havre caused some shrinkage. The market was finally steady with prices net 5 to 10 points higher; sales 19,750 bags, including April at 4.95; June 5.15; August 5.35; November 5.55; December 5.55@5.60; February 5.75. Coffee, spot Rio quiet; No. 7 invoice 8¾@5 7-16; mild quiet; Cordova 8¼@12.

Sugar, raw firm; fair refining 3; centrifugal 96-test 3½; molasses sugar 2¾. Refined firm.

New Orleans, April 30.—Sugar strong; open kettle 2½@3 3-16; open kettle centrifugal 3@3½; centrifugal yellow 3¼@3 15-16; seconds 2⅛@3⅛. Molasses dull; centrifugal 7@18.

The Metal Market.

New York, April 30.—Prices for tin were raised at home and abroad today. The gain at London was £1 5s with spot closing at £130 and futures £127. At New York the gain was close to ½c with spot closing at 28¼@28½.

Copper was 2s 6d higher at London and futures closed £52 5s. The New York copper market was quiet. Lake closed 11¾@12; electrolytic and casting 11⅜@11⅝. Standard copper for spot to August delivery was quoted at 11 to 11.15.

Lead was steady but unchanged here at 4½, but London was 1s 3d higher at £11 15s. Spelter ruled steady here at 4.42½; gained 2s 6d at London, closing at £18 2s 6d.

The New York iron market was steady and unchanged as follows: Pig iron warrants nominal; No. 1 foundry northern $19@20; No. 2 foundry northern $18@19; No. 1 foundry southern $17.50@18. No. 1 foundry southern soft $17.50@18. English markets were lower with Glasgow closing at 53s 6d and Middlesboro at 48s 4½d.

St. Louis, April 30.—Lead quiet at $3.97½@4. Spelter firm at $4.17½@4.20.

Murphy & Co.'s Stock Letter.

New York, April 30.—There was increased activity in the stock market today, but it was generally at the expense of values. Some issues were conspicuously strong, but a severe break in some of the Industrials exerted a sympathetic influence to the detriment of others, and the afternoon dealings were marked by general liquidation. The prolongation of the coal labor conference was interpreted by the street unfavorably, but no actual knowledge as to the progress of negotiations was available up to the close of business. Rumors of probable gold exports were circulated, but the sharp advance in all call money rates was due more to the shifting of loans incidental to some of the severe declines which occurred in stocks than to the preparations of the customary May settlements. The first shock given to trading confidence was when International Power precipitately broke 35 per cent. A recovery of about half the loss followed, but the stock continued feverish the rest of the day. A little later American Locomotive issues declined 4 to 5 per cent and there were more or less severe losses in Railway Steel Springs issues, Colorado Fuel and Iron, Tennessee Coal and Iron, Ice and a number of minor specialties. On the contrary, Sugar was decidedly strong, resisting the general tendency toward reaction and closing with net gain of about 2 per cent. Copper advanced with some spirit and yielded 1@2 per cent apparent reliance. Linseed stocks were exceptionally strong. St. Paul was the leader of the railway list and the excellent March statement reported encouraged the bull feeling on it. Illinois Central was conspicuously strong, advancing 2 points, and it retained two-thirds of the gain. The small increase in net earnings reported by the Union Pacific for March led to distinct weakness in late trading. Canadian Pacific was lower on realizing. Atch

ELEVEN INNINGS TO DECIDE GAME

Game Yesterday One of Best Seen This Season.

BAKER PROVED HIS WORTH

For Six Innings the Teams Worked for a Run, and It Was the Home Quantity Which Sent a Man Across the Plate First.

For eleven innings the Atlantas and the Nashvilles battled yesterday afternoon for supremacy at Piedmont park before a gathering of five to seven hundred people, a great number of ladies being in evidence in the grand stand, while on the bleachers were many of the recognized devotees of the game.

The battle, hard and stubborn as it was, went Nashville's way, but it was not until the last man in the eleventh had gone out and the members of the two teams were leaving the grounds that any one would have been willing to predict the result. Then it was too late to forecast, as the work had been completed.

Manager Fisher, with a bat bag full of smiles, followed by his players, wended his way to the wagon reserved for his team. As the last Nashville man squeezed into the wagon Fisher remarked:

"Thank goodness, we are through with Atlanta. If I could I would be willing to remain here now and complete the games scheduled with Pabst rather than come back. This is about the hardest rooting town I have ever encountered. Here they stand by the home team if there is the slightest chance to do so. Why these people here will grab at anything in sight."

The game was the best of the four played in Atlanta this season. There was a preciseness about the work on both sides, and from the start it was apparent that both teams were out for the best of it and that both were working to produce an errorless game, if possible.

When Abbitticchio toed the plate he found Baker facing him. Baker was a new man to the Nashville batter and with a smile of assurance he made ready for the ball. It was two balls and a strike when the Tennesseean found one to his liking. This he sent out into right and Winters got under it. The half of the inning closed without producing a run, four men only toeing the plate, one of the number, Bussey, getting his base on balls. Atlanta could do no better in her half of the first, three men appearing for work.

Frank's Running Catch.

Up to the sixth the game was productive of almost errorless playing and was without a run. In Atlanta's half of that inning the first run of the game was made. When Nashville came to the bat in the sixth Abbitticchio was the second man up, Sanders having gone out from Stouch to Pabst. Abbitticchio, on Krug's error secured first. He tried to steal second and was thrown out by Latimer, Busch covering the bag. Wiseman came up with a connection. The ball went down into deep left on a line with center. No one doubted a three-bagger, and even a home run would not have surprised half the crowd. Frank started for the ball. The run was useless, so thought nearly every one watching the play. Observers in the grand stand as well as in the bleachers tried to call Frank off, but the Atlantan kept up his chase and when the ball came down it settled in Frank's hands. It was the most wonderful catch of the season, a catch which will not be duplicated in weeks. It set the crowd wild and yell after yell went up.

It was Frank's place to open the inning for Atlanta with the stick and as he came to the bat he was given an ovation even greater than the one extended as he came from the field. Frank quickly found one to suit him and, as if wishing to show his appreciation of the applause, he sent it out into center, right up against the fence and on it made a circuit of the bases.

That was the first run of the game, and the only one the Atlantas made. In the eighth a base on balls, a sacrifice, a strike out on which Goodenough, by clever base running, gained a bag, and a fly out sent Nashville's center fielder across the plate, making the score 1 to 1. Neither side could do anything in the ninth or tenth. In the eleventh Nashville got Lowney across the plate.

But for what seemed to be an error of judgment by Pabst in the eighth, the game might have terminated 1 to 0. In that inning Pabst was playing off first when the ball came his way from a bat. Apparently, he had a chance to reach the bag before the base runner, but instead of doing so he put the ball at the man covering the bag, and the runner was safe.

The score was:

Chattanooga Here Today.

The Atlantas open this afternoon with the team living under the shadow of Lookout mountain. The Chattanoogas have a good showing, and are determined to carry away as many victories as they can secure.

The game will begin at 3:30 o'clock, with James Lynch as umpire, and the lineup will be:

| Atlanta. | Position. | Chattanooga. |
|---|---|---|
| Henley | pitcher | Dolan or Hopkins |
| Latimer | catcher | Roth |
| Pabst | first base | Snook |
| Stouch | second base | Spratt |
| Krug | third base | Taylor |
| Busch | shortstop | Peas |
| Frank | left field | Durrett |
| Leidy | center field | Laurence |
| Winters | right field | Dougherty |

President Nicklin wrote yesterday that he would be in Atlanta one day this week, possibly Thursday, when he will make a thorough investigation of the charges against Wilson, the umpire. In the meantime James F. Lynch has been instructed to go ahead in Wilson's place until further instructions. In his work so far Jim Lynch has given general satisfaction. There was not a protest against any of his rulings, neither was there at any time the slightest dissatisfaction manifested by either manager or by a member of either team yesterday. Few men in the south know baseball laws or rules better than Jim Lynch, and that he is firm and equitable in his decisions, all who have seen his work will assert.

FIELD DAY OCCURS SATURDAY.

High School Boys Will Contest for Prizes at Piedmont Park on That Day.

All arrangements have been made for the field day exercises of the Boys' High school, which are to be held at Piedmont park Saturday afternoon. At a meeting of the athletic committee of the board of education yesterday the programme for the exercises was approved.

There will be ten events, and a number of students have entered for each. Merchants and friends of the school have donated prizes which are to be awarded the winners in the various events. These prizes will be exhibited at Silverman's on Peachtree today for the first time.

The judges of the exercises have been appointed by the Atlanta Athletic Club, and are Arnold Broyles, W. P. Hill, W. H. Glenn, G. W. Adair, W. R. Tichenor, Walter Ormond and Burton Smith.

The boys are training daily for the tournament and will doubtless be in the pink of condition by Saturday. The exercises will be held on the race track immediately in front of the grand stand. The field day exercises for the grammar schools will be held next week, May 10. Dr. Theodore Toepel, the physical director, is arranging the programme, and it will be announced shortly.

SEWANEE WINS OUT AGAIN FROM CUMBERLAND'S TEAM

Sewanee, Tenn., April 30.—(Special.)—Sewanee took the second game of the series this afternoon from Cumberland with the score 7 to 3 after fast, snappy playing. Sewanee gained the game by opportune bunching of hits in the fourth and ninth innings, and by better outfielding than has been done yet. Cope did some splendid work on third base for Sewanee, and Huger, Sewanee's new pitcher, did some brilliant work in the box. Spencer and Harris, second base and pitcher, respectively, are Cumberland's brightest stars, although every man is a good player. The series of games will be finished tomorrow. The score is as follows, by innings:

|---|---|
| Sewaanee | 0 0 0 4 1 0 0 0 2—7 |
| Cumberland | 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 0 0—3 |

Batteries: Huger and Simpkins, Harris and McGauhy. Hits—Off Huger 9; off Harris 9. Struck out—By Huger 2; by Harris 8.

Virginia 10, Roanoke 1.

University of Virginia, Va., April 30.—(Special.)—A wild throw over first base gave Roanoke college 1 run to 10 for Virginia in today's game. Both teams put up a clean game in the field, but Virginia drove out ten hits against two singles for the visitors. Virginia will play the last game of a series with Carolina here Saturday.

Georgia-Tech Game Off.

The negotiations which have been in progress between the managements of the Georgia and Tech teams looking to a second game to be played Friday have been terminated without an agreement being reached, owing to a difference of opinion as to how the receipts should be divided. It is thought by both managers that the game would prove a drawing card, but they were unable to reach an agreement in time to pull off the game Friday. It is possible that Georgia and the Tech will meet in Atlanta at a later date before the season closes, but if this occurs, it will hardly be before the games already scheduled with other teams are played.

Games Elsewhere.

At Nashville—Vanderbilt 30; University of Nashville 2.

At Charlotte, N. C.—Charlotte 10; Trinity college 1.

Princeton 5; Cornell 1.

Yale 5; Brown 2.

Georgetown 8; University of West Virginia 0.

"MOONSHINE" STILL IN CITY

Large One Raided on Larkin Street by Revenue Officers.

TWO MEN HAVE BEEN ARRESTED

One Said He Knew of the Distillery, but Had Nothing To Do with It.

Usually when the revenue officers want to locate a "moonshine" still they start for the Blue Ridge mountains. They were deprived of such a trip yesterday when an illicit distillery was discovered in the house at No. 79 Larkin street.

When the place was raided by Deputy Collector John Ware, who was assisted by Deputy Marshal Dennis Hughes, Deputy Marshal Charles Thomas and Webb Cox, a posseman, the furnace was found to be warm, indicating that a "run" had only just been made. In the place was found twenty gallons of corn whisky, about 600 gallons of beer mash ready for distilling and a number of bushels of meal.

I. C. Suttle, who resides in the house where the still was found, together with C. P. Murry, his brother-in-law, were arrested and taken at once before Commissioner Walter Colquitt. Suttle, who has but one leg, made no statement. Murry, however, said he had nothing to do with the still. He explained that he only learned of its existence a short time ago and had threatened to leave the house because of the discovery.

Both were bound over to the federal court, their bonds being fixed at $200 in each case. In default of bond they were sent to the Tower. The still, which was of copper with a capacity of forty gallons, together with the whisky and mash, was brought to the custom house.

Urinary Troubles

The Son of a Prominent Tennesseean Finds a Quick Cure After Many Things Failed.

If the Kidneys are strong and healthy there can be no bladder trouble. Frequently the Kidneys do not dissolve the waste matter that enters them and the particles form into a solid mass in the bladder. This mass, or stone obstructs the passage or urine from the bladder, and if this is allowed to continue the important function of urination may be permanently interfered with. The only thing to do is to get a reliable remedy that will dissolve this stone in the bladder and force it out of the system, and to accomplish this it is not necessary to have a surgical operation performed, as used to be the case. All you need in any case of Kidney or Bladder trouble is Smith's Sure Kidney Cure, and Mr. Dedman of Memphis can give evidence to this effect in the case of his own son. Mr. Dedman writes:

"My son has suffered with stone in the bladder eight years. I have taken him to several watering places, also to Cincinnati, New York, Chicago, and Nashville, where he was put under eminent physicians with no improvement; on the contrary, it was gradually getting larger, until I lost all hope of getting him cured, when I was told of SMITH'S SURE KIDNEY CURE. I had him try it, and to my surprise he began to improve at once and he was cured with two bottles. His general health has improved wonderfully.

JOHN E. DEDMAN, Memphis, Tenn."

Smith's Sure Kidney Cure contains nothing harmful but nevertheless it will entirely cure Bright's Disease, diabetes, dropsy, gravel, stone in the bladder, bloated bladder, frequent desire to urinate, pains in the back, legs, sides and over the Kidneys, swelling of the feet and ankles, retention of urine, scalding, pain in the bladder, wetting the bed—in short, every form of Kidney, bladder and urinary trouble in man, woman or child.

Rheumatism

The liniment bottle and flannel strip are familiar objects in nearly every household. They are the weapons that have been used for generations to fight old Rheumatism, and are about as effective in the battle with this giant disease as the blunderbuss of our forefathers would be in modern warfare.

Rheumatism is caused by an acid, sour condition of the blood. It is filled with acrid, irritating matter that settles in the joints, muscles and nerves, and liniments and oils nor anything else applied externally can dislodge these gritty, corroding particles. They were deposited there by the blood and can be reached only through the blood. Rubbing with liniments sometimes relieves temporarily the aches and pains, but these are only symptoms; the real disease lies deeper. The blood and system are infected. Rheumatism cannot be radically and permanently cured until the blood has been purified, and no remedy does this so thoroughly and promptly as S. S. S. It neutralizes the acids and sends a stream of rich, strong blood to the affected parts, which dissolves and washes out all foreign materials, and the sufferer obtains happy relief from the torturing pains.

SSS

S. S. S. contains no potash or other mineral, is a perfect vegetable blood purifier and most exhilarating tonic. It relieves pain and builds up the exhausted vital forces at the same time. Our physicians will advise, without charge, all who write about their case, and we will send free our special book on Rheumatism and its treatment.

SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

Notable Opinions Handed Down Yesterday Morning.

LOCAL CASES ARE DECIDED.

Court of Last Resort Brings to a Close a Number of Issues Long Pending.

Decisions Rendered Wednesday, April 30, 1902.

Justice Lewis was prevented by sickness from participating in the adjudication of these cases. Each judgment is concurred in by all of the five justices present.

537. Brown & Allen et al. v. Jacobs' Pharmacy Company. Injunction. Before Judge Lumpkin. Fulton superior court.

Fish, J.—1. A combination of mercantile dealers to compel another dealer in similar goods to sell at prices fixed by it, or upon his refusal so to do, to prevent those of whom its members are purchasing customers from selling goods to him, is, upon general legal principles, contrary to public policy and void; and the members of such a combination may, collectively or individually, be by appropriate injunction restrained from carrying into effect such purpose as that indicated above.

2. The act approved December 23, 1896 (acts 1896, p. 68), commonly known as the "anti-trust act," is unconstitutional; as section 4 thereof, declaring that the provisions of the act "shall not apply to agricultural products or live stock while in the possession of the producer or raiser," makes the act repugnant to that provision of the fourteenth amendment of the constitution of the United States which declares that "no state shall deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

3. There was no error in granting the injunction prayed for, save only as to one of the defendants; and the judgment excepted to being as to all the others correct, it will be affirmed, with appropriate direction.

Judgment affirmed, with direction.

King & Spalding and Smith, Hammond & Smith, for plaintiffs in error.

H. Douglas, Hopkins & Sons, Arnold & Arnold, Rosser & Carter and D. A. Loyless, contra.

538. Moore v. State. Riot. Before Judge Seabrook. Liberty superior court.

Lumpkin, P. J.—This case as to all material points is controlled by the decision in the case of Martin v. State, ante, 523.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

Donald Fraser and B. A. Way, for plaintiff in error.

Livingston Kenan, solicitor general, contra.

539. City Council of Augusta v. King. Injunction. Before Judge Brinson. Richmond superior court.

Little, J.—A legislative act which undertakes to empower a city council to collect "all sums that may be assessed by said city council, or by its authority, against every and each improved lot lying on any street in (the city) through which the pipes of the (city) waterworks may pass," is unconstitutional when it makes no provision for fixing the amount of the assessments for which it provides, with relation either to the cost thereof or the benefits to the property owners, nor for any just apportionment of such cost among the several property owners interested, nor for notice to them, nor for giving them any hearing with respect to the reasonableness or justness of such assessments. An act of this nature, with such omissions, is violative of article 1, section 1, paragraph 3, of the constitution, which provides that "No person shall be deprived of * * * property except by due process of law." (Stuart v. Palmer, 74 Ga. 183, 30 Am. R. 289; Thomas v. Gain, 35 Mich. 155, 24 Am. R. 535; In re Trustees Union College, 129 N. Y. 308; Remsen v. Wheeler, 105 N. Y. 573; Dasey v. Skinner, 11 N. Y. Supp. 821; Parsons v. District of Columbia, 170 U. S. 52; Norwood v. Baker, 172 U. S. 269.)

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

W. H. Barrett, for plaintiff in error.

P. J. Sullivan, contra.

540. Hester v. Scottish Union and National Insurance Company. Action on policy. Before Judge Falligant. Chatham superior court.

Little, J.—The bill of exceptions in this case was predicated on a judgment of nonsuit rendered in an action on a contract of fire insurance. The policy by its terms expressly provided that it should be null and void in the event the assured should not observe certain stipulations as to the keeping of certain books and making inventories, and the proper production of the same in case of loss, as prescribed in a clause thereof known as the "iron-safe clause." The evidence of the plaintiff, the person insured, showed affirmatively that he had not complied with the requirements embraced in that clause. He had therefore, under the terms of his contract, no right of recovery; and the trial judge did not err in granting a nonsuit.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

W. F. Slater, for plaintiff.

R. L. Colding, for defendant.

541. Travelers' Protective Association of America v. Small. Action on policy. Before Judge Nottingham. City court of Macon.

Cobb, J.—1. When in the trial of an action upon a policy of accident insurance, which contained a provision that the insurer would not be liable for injuries received as a result of "voluntary or unnecessary exposure to danger, or to obvious risk of injury," it appeared that the plaintiff was injured while attempting to board a moving train of cars propelled by steam, his right to recover depended upon whether, under all the circumstances at the time the attempt was made, an ordinarily prudent person would have made the attempt. If the attempt would not have been made by an ordinarily prudent person, and if there was no emergency at the time which required the plaintiff to board the train, except the inconvenience of delay or possible injury to business resulting therefrom, the attempt would be a voluntary and unnecessary exposure to danger, and an obvious risk of injury, within the meaning of the clause of the policy above quoted.

2. Some of the instructions given in the trial of the present case were not in entire accord with what is above laid down, and a new trial should have been granted.

Judgment reversed.

Roland Ellis and Washington Dessau, for plaintiff in error.

Hardeman, Davis, Turner & Jones, contra.

542. Hodge v. Till. Before Judge Felton. Houston superior court.

Little, J.—There being no complaint of the instructions actually given to the jury, and the failure of the court to charge certain propositions set forth in the motion for a new trial not being erroneous, the special grounds of that motion are without merit. This being so, and the verdict being fully warranted by the evidence, the judgment below will not be disturbed.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

R. N. Holtzclaw, for plaintiff in error.

W. C. Davis, contra.

543. Ellis et al. v. Union Savings Bank and Trust Company. Before Judge Nottingham. City court of Macon.

Cobb, J.—1. A ground of a motion for a new trial, assigning error upon a ruling of the court in excluding testimony, which does not set forth, either literally or in substance, the testimony excluded, the same not being attached to the motion as an exhibit, cannot be considered. Waldrop v. Wolff, decided February 4, 1902, and citations therein.

2. The rule above announced is applicable in a case where the ground of the motion alleges that "the court erred in ruling out the testimony of defendants (naming three persons) relating to the agreement between" them and another, "said testimony embracing all the testimony of said (defendants) as set out in the brief of evidence herewith filed."

3. Under the evidence admitted, a verdict for the plaintiff was demanded; and there was no error in directing the jury so to find.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

Roland Ellis and Washington Dessau, for plaintiffs in error.

Steedd & Ryals and Bacon, Miller & Brunson, contra.

544. Kahn, administrator, v. Southern Building and Loan Association. Complaint. Before Judge Nottingham. City court of Macon.

Simmons, C. J.—1. A plea to the jurisdiction must not only show that the court assuming jurisdiction has none, but must allege that another court in this state has jurisdiction. (Civil Code, section 5082.)

2. The defendant in an action has a right to file a traverse to the return of service of the sheriff or other officer at the first term after learning of the return; and this is true whether the case is marked in default or not. This rule is not changed by anything in the act of 1900 amending the act establishing the city court of Macon.

3. A plea to the merits which expressly avers that it is filed subject to the plea to the jurisdiction and the traverse of the return of service already filed does not admit jurisdiction or waive the traverse. (Cox v. Potts, 67 Ga. 521.)

4. The plaintiff's action having been founded upon a conditional contract, and the petition alleging in different paragraphs material facts which the plaintiff had to prove in order to recover, a plea denying the truth of such material allegations, paragraph by paragraph, constituted a meretorious defense, and should not have been stricken on demurrer. DeSoto Plantation Company v. Hammett, 111 Ga. 24.)

5. Where a default is opened upon condition that the defendant instanter file a meretorious defense, and such defense is so filed, it is error to strike the answer and try the case as still in default.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

M. W. Harris, M. B. Gerry and C. A. Glawson, for plaintiff in error.

Estes & Jones, contra.

545. Bartlett v. Brunson. Rule. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. If a solicitor general has in his hands more money, collected from fines and forfeitures, than is necessary to pay his own fees and those of his immediate predecessor for the costs in cases begun by him, and the fees of the other officers of court who assisted in bringing the money into court, it is his duty, under the code, to pay the excess into the county treasury at the proper time.

2. It follows that the solicitor general is not liable to a rule against him by a former solicitor general, to compel him to pay such excess to this former solicitor general upon orders for insolvent costs allowed him during his term of office. (Freeman v. Hardeman, 67 Ga. 559, and Gordon County Comm'rs. v. Harris, 81 Ga. 719, distinguished.

Judgment affirmed.

Washington Dessau and Robert Hodges, for plaintiff.

Hardeman, Davis, Turner & Jones, for defendant.

546. Tate et al., executors, v. Chandler. Complaint. Before Judge Proffitt. City court of Elberton.

Cobb, J.—A testator, after providing in his will various sources of income for the support of his wife, gave to her during life or widowhood a described tract of land. The will then provided that, if the wife so elected, the land should be sold and the interest or profits derivable from the proceeds of the sale should be used for her support; and that if such interest or profits were not sufficient for her ample support and maintenance during her natural life or widowhood, "so much of the principal shall be used as will insure a handsome support." Held, that the fee in the land was charged with the support of the wife; and if the income provided by the will from other sources were not sufficient to maintain her in a manner suited to her condition in life, the land was, at her election, subject to be sold for the purpose of providing her with a support; and if the interest or profits derived from the proceeds of the sale were not sufficient for that purpose, so much of the principal as was necessary from time to time to make up the deficiency should be used.

Judgment affirmed.

Ira C. VanDuzer, for plaintiffs in error.

Joseph N. Worley, contra.

547. Chapple v. Tucker. Before Judge Hart. Hancock superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—There was evidence to support the verdict; there was no error in charging or in refusing to charge; and there was no proper assignment of error on the admission of evidence.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

R. H. Lewis, for plaintiff in error.

Hunt & Merritt, contra.

548. Jordan v. Parsons. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Cobb, J.—The evidence, though conflicting, authorized the verdict. The charges complained of were not erroneous for any of the reasons assigned; and the discretion of the trial judge in refusing to grant a new trial will not be interfered with.

Judgment affirmed. (No further opinion.)

John R. Cooper, for plaintiff in error.

Martin & Ayer, contra.

549. Armstrong v. Heath. Before Judge Felton. Bibb superior court.

Little, J.—1. When a distress warrant in favor of F. F. H. is met by a proper counter-affidavit of the defendant therein, the plaintiff cannot, for the purpose of proving the rent alleged to be due, introduce a promissory note payable to the order of W. W. H., given for the rent of the premises in question, which note, together with the lien for rent, had, as appeared upon the note itself, been previously transferred to F. S. & Co., there being nothing on the paper to show that the latter did not still have the legal title to the note and the rent lien.

2. Even with such a note in evidence, supplemented by proof sufficient to show that W. W. H., in taking the rent note payable to his order, was acting as agent for F. F. H., the real landlord, and that at the time the later sued out the distress warrant "the said rent note was in his (plaintiff's) hands," a non-suit should have been granted, the evidence also showing not only that the note and rent lien were transferred to F. S. H. & Co., but that the note was actually delivered to them, and there being no evidence to show that they had ever transferred the legal title to either the note or the lien back either to W. W. H. or to F. F. H.

Moore & Daly, for plaintiff in error.

Estes & Jones, contra.

550. Shinholser v. Jordan. Petition for discharge. Before Judge Nottingham. City court of Macon.

Little, J.—Before a defendant in an action of trover where bail has been required can lawfully be discharged from custody on his own recognizance under his petition alleging that he is unable either to give the security required by law or to produce the property as provided in section 4608 of the civil code, it must appear to the judge to whom such petition is addressed that the defendant can neither give the security nor produce the property, and that the reasons given for its non-production are satisfactory.

It was error to discharge such defendant from custody on a finding that the defendant could not produce the property but could give the security required by law.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

Moore & Daly, for plaintiff.

Glawson & Fowler, for defendant.

551. Collins, trustee, v. Hill. Levy and claim. Before Judge Hart. Hancock superior court.

Cobb, J.—1. There can be no legal verdict in favor of the plaintiff in execution in a claim case, unless there is introduced in evidence at the trial a valid, unsatisfied execution in favor of the plaintiff against the defendant in execution. If the execution introduced in evidence is for any reason void, or if no execution is offered in evidence, the plaintiff in execution fails to make out his case, and the levy should be dismissed. (Gunn v. McMichael, 68 Ga. 826; Funkhouser v. Male, 110 Ga. 766, and cit.)

2. When in the trial of a claim case the plaintiff in execution offers to introduce the execution in evidence, and, upon objection to its introduction, withdraws it, and the evidence is closed without the execution being again offered, it is error to direct a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in execution; the only proper judgment to be entered would be one dismissing the levy.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

Hunt & Merritt and J. A. Harley, for plaintiff in error.

W. H. Burwell, contra.

552. Davis v. Hadden. Before Judge Holden. Glascock superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—A setoff at law can be had only in cases where the demands attempted to be set off are mutual and held by the parties in their own right. It follows that a defendant sued in his individual capacity cannot set off against the plaintiff's demand a claim that he, in a representative capacity as executor, holds against the plaintiff. (Civil code, section 3746-7; Daniel v. Bush, 80 Ga. 218.)

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

K. J. Hawkins, for plaintiff.

B. F. Walker, for defendant.

553. Sackett v. Stone et al. Equitable petition. Before Judge Brinson. Taliaferro superior court.

Simmons, C. J.—1. Where one having no interest in the matter advances money to pay the debt of another, he cannot claim subrogation to the rights of the creditor in the absence of any express or implied agreement therefor.

2. There was no material error in any of the charges complained of; under the issues involved in the case there was no error in the admission or rejection of evidence; and the evidence warranted the verdict upon the issues submitted by the court.

3. The plaintiff claimed under two separate and distinct deeds. The judge fairly and fully submitted to the jury the plaintiff's claims and contentions under one of these deeds, but did not submit to them his claims under the other. This court, therefore, orders a new trial, but directs that it be confined to the trial of the rights of the parties under the deed which was not passed upon by the jury.

Judgment reversed, with direction.

Anderson & Grace, for plaintiff.

Samuel H. Sibley, for defendants.

554. Neal v. Conwell. Before Judge Proffitt. City court of Elberton.

Simmons, C. J.—Under the facts shown in evidence, and a proper construction of the contract sued on, the court erred in granting a non-suit.

Judgment reversed.

J. N. Worley, for plaintiff.

W. D. Tutt & Son, for defendant.

555. Maxwell v. Family Protective Union. Action on insurance certificate. Before Judge Cobb. City court of Athens.

Simmons, C. J.—1. Where a by-law of a mutual life insurance company stipulates that no death benefit may be paid except "to the widow, children, uncle, niece, nephew, first cousin, next to kin who would be distributees of the member's personal estate if he died intestate, or to persons dependent upon the member," the phrase "next to kin" does not limit the classes before enumerated but adds to them another class. There is nothing in such a by-law to prevent recovery of a death benefit by the beneficiary named in the certificate, who is uncle of the deceased member, but who is not nearest of kin or distributee.

2. A stipulation in the by-laws that "No suit shall be instituted against this order without first referring the matter to the grievance committee; and if its action be objected by either party, an appeal can be taken to the supreme council, until this action is resorted to, no member shall be entitled to proceed at common law against the order; and it shall be deemed a sufficient answer on the part of this order that the member has failed to comply with these laws, to dismiss his action and to compel him or her to proceed as herein provided," applies to members only, and not to the beneficiary of a deceased member.

3. Under the allegations of the petition as amended, a cause of action was set forth; and it was error to sustain a demurrer.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

W. J. Brewer and P. P. Proffitt, for plaintiff.

Strickland & Green, for defendant.

556. Wilson v. Williams. Before Judge Russell. Oconee superior court.

Little, J.—When a petition, brought to set aside a judgment foreclosing a materialman's lien, and for injunction, etc., shows on its face that the main issue therein raised has, before the filing of such petition, been adjudicated adversely to the petitioner, or could have been properly adjudicated, in a prior case in which both the petitioner and the defendant were parties, it is error to overrule a demurrer properly presenting the point that the matter in controversy is res adjudicata. (Civil code, section 3742.)

An allegation that a particular judgment was void, because it was obtained by fraud and collusion between the plaintiff and the defendant therein, was cognizable in an equitable proceeding to which one whose property was affected by the judgment, and the plaintiff in the judgment, were both parties.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

W. M. Smith, R. M. Higgins, and Lumpkin & Burnett, for plaintiff in error.

B. E. Thrasher and Strickland & Green, contra.

557. Ambrose v. Seaboard and Roanoke Railroad Company et al. Damages. Before Judge Russell. Gwinnett superior court.

Little, J.—The admissions of the defendants and the evidence for the plaintiff were sufficient to authorize a jury to find that the plaintiff was entitled to recover from the defendants. It was error to award a non-suit.

Judgment reversed. (No further opinion.)

J. A. Perry and N. L. Hutchins, for plaintiff.

Erwin & Brown and N. L. Hutchins, Jr., for defendant.

This concludes the present delivery of decisions.

21 Lots on Fair, Tennelle, Short and Tye Sts., and Kirkwood Ave.

Our sale last month of 40 lots on the above streets was interrupted by a heavy rain, and we have decided to sell the remaining lots on THURSDAY, MAY 8th, AT 3 O'CLOCK.

Every lot put up at the former sale was sold to the highest bidder without any reserve or limit, and the purchasers are now in possession of them and building houses. At this sale we promise that every lot will be sold in the same manner, and, in fact, we do not propose to conduct any auction sale on any other plan. The desirability of this property is plain to every one who examines it. Houses built in that neighborhood always command good tenants at fair rental, and are very desirable as investments or for homes.

We have put the terms within the reach of every one.

Gentlemen, I charge you that the law in this case, which involves the question of the value of advertising, is the law of suggestion, and there is no better way to illustrate its practical application and effect than to carefully examine the work of the Foote & Davies Co. and the prosperity of their patrons.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR CONGRESS.

Candidate 58th Congress 5th District of Georgia, CHARLES I. BRANAN, subject to the Democratic Primary, June 5, 1902.

This will be the most regular and systematic democratic primary ever held in Georgia for governor and congressman on same date. Mr. Branan's friends challenge Colonel L. F. Livingston or any of his hypnotized subjects to deny the fact, that the present regular and systematic primaries, for both governor and congressmen, were brought about directly through Mr. Branan's untiring efforts to secure a fair expression of white votes at the ballot box. And this challenge extends also to any person who disagrees with our first president, that long terms in office are dangerous to our form of government.
